OUR LONDON LETTER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18.

THE long-expected address on "Our Colonial Empire" was delivered by Mr. W. E. Forster, on the 5th instant, at Edinburgh. Setting before himself the question—What will become of our Colonial Empire if we in the United Kingdom do our duty? He gave broadly as his answer:—

"I believe that our union with our colonies will not be severed, because I believe that we and they will more and more prize this union, and become convinced that it can be preserved only by looking forward to association upon equal terms; in other words, I believe that our colonial empire will last, because, no longer striving to rule our colonies as dependencies when they become strong enough to be independent, we shall welcome them as partners in a common and mighty empire."

Ideas, he proceeded to say, were the rulers of the world, realising themselves sooner or later, and becoming the facts of history. If the ideas of the separationists were to prevail, we had better give up ourselves to the inevitable, and surrender the notion of girdling the earth with our possessions. He trusted, however, that the dominant idea would be that the colonies when strong enough to be independent would feel no desire to cease to be British citizens, but perceive that they might have all the advantages of a nationality while voluntarily clinging to the mother country, and living a richer ampler life in union with her. He passed under review the various arguments for separation, and continued:—

"And now, if any one of you have followed me thus far in the line of thought I have taken, he will, I think, be ready with the question—If you think this future association possible, if you see no insuperable physical or moral bar to prevent it, in what way do you expect it to be formed—what kind of federation do you propose? My reply is, I am ready with no proposition. I believe any precise proposition would be premature, and for this reason, that as yet no change in our relations is necessary. As Mr. Arthur Mills has stated, 'The present principle of our colonial policy is to ripen these communities to the earliest possible maturity'; and when they have obtained this maturity, it will be for us then to consider what will be the best bond of union. All that is now required is to imbue them and ourselves with the desire that the union should last, and the determination that the empire shall not be broken up. If this be done, we need not fear that at the fitting time this idea will realize itself."

There is not much in the address that is new or striking. And the Times does not compliment its author. The Australian colonies, he thinks, have the southern hemisphere to themselves and need be afraid of nobody; but, beyond a candid admission that the future is apt to be obscure, he has little to say that has not been said dozens of times before. The journal points out that the only key to the future is to be found in the policy of divergence which has of late been adopted, and gives its opinion in favour of a future "independence so complete as to render union a voluntary act of the purest loyalty."

In his opening address to the Royal Geographical Society, which I had the pleasure of hearing last Monday evening, Sir Henry Rawlinson referred to New Guinea. In his opinion it was "almost impossible, in the present state of the world, when the nations of Europe have subjugated or colonised so many lands beonging to the Indian Ocean, the China Seas, and Polynesia, that this magnificent island, the queen of the eastern archipelago, should remain much longer in isolated and barren independence." He spoke in most cordial terms of the efforts of the Ellengowan steamer to find an opening into the interior, and quoted a letter he had received from Mr. Octavius Stone, dated mouth of the Mai-Kassa River, New Guinea, September 7, announcing the discovery of a river navigable to a distance of sixty miles inland, and which it was proposed to call Baxter River, after the Scotch lady who so generously gave the steamer to the London Missionary Society.

I alluded in a recent letter to the private expedition which was being organized for taking forcible possession of a part of the island of New Guinea. A deputation from the Anti-slavery Society waited yesterday upon Lord Carnarvon to protest against this intention, trusting that no such irresponsible undertaking might receive encouragement from her Majesty's Government. Mr. Serjeant Simon introduced the deputation, whose spokesmen were the Rev. Aaron Buzacott, Dr. Mullens, and the Rev. W. A. Murray. In reply his Lordship said one question involved was that of annexing or colonising New Guinea, and upon this he would not be expected to say much, as he was at that moment, on behalf of the Government, in communication with the Governors of the different Australian colonies, who had all been taking a very lively interest in the matter. He believed, however, he was correct in saying that, apart from the missionary settlements to which so much was due, there was not a single white man resident in the whole of that great island. He spoke of the failure of the Macleay expedition, and said great caution was needed, and the difficulties of colonization were easily underrated. As to the proposed association, he had been startled to find how military a programme they were laying down, and he had already informed them that they were embarking on a most dangerous course, and that if they did acquire land the Government would not recognize titles which they might have obtained in an improper way, and that if there should be occasion to colonise New Guinea hereafter, such holdings would not be recognised as legal. More than that he could not say; for it was quite beyond his power to stop Englishmen from trading in any part of the world, so long as they did it in a legitimate way.

On All Saints' Day, Dean Stanley preached at Westminster Abbey on the career of Commodore Goodenough, selecting the words, "He being dead yet speaketh." Having traced his course through life, he concluded thus characteristically:—

"Englishmen, young Englishmen, soldiers and sailors, yet not soldiers or sailors, nor young men only, take courage from his example if ever you are tempted to think goodness an idle dream, or the love of the Almighty a fable; if ever you are tempted to think lightly of sin, or to waste your health and time in frivolous idleness, or in foolish vices, or to despair of leading an upright, pure, and Christian life—remember Commodore Goodenough, and remember how his life was absorbed in duty, and duty was transfigured into happiness, and death was swallowed up in victory."

Two important Acts have this month come into operation. One is the Judicature Act. The High Court of Judicature, with its Chancery Division, Common Pleas Division, Exchequer Division, and the like, will, it is expected, greatly simplify legal processes, and by substituting continuous sittings of three or four weeks each for the short broken sittings which have hitherto been in vogue will overcome the arrears of work, and cause the vexatious delays soon to be a thing of the past. A gain is also secured in requiring that henceforth all pleadings shall be printed and not written. The other Act is the Merchant Shipping Act, passed so hurriedly at the fag-end of last session. The load line is now marked on all vessels; and in crossing the Channel last week I saw all the steamers at Southampton with the circular disc, painted in white, on their sides, with the horizontal line through its centre, indicating the maximum load line in salt water to which the owner intends to load the ship for her voyage next ensuing. When this mark has been made, it must remain until the vessel returns to a port of discharge in the United Kingdom. A statement of the position of the load-line has to be delivered to the authorities, and must be entered in the agreement with the crew before this is signed by any member of the crew. Heavy penalties are attached to the neglect or breach of the provisions of the Act.

It would be a good thing if we could mark a high-tide line all along the banks of the Thames, and take care to build our defences against the water well above it. Last Monday the highest tide of the century came in and laid the low parts of East and South London under water; ship yards were flooded; in some of the streets in Lambeth and the Wandsworth Road the parlours were eight feet deep in water; a friend of mine going to business that morning found his counting-house two feet under water, and his engine-boilers completely covered. All this inconvenience, yes, all this misery to the poor, because we have not taken thought and raised the walls of the river high enough to keep out its periodic incursions. The same lack of prudent care may explain the enormous damage done all over the country by the unusually heavy autumn rains, from which we have for the last fortnight or more been suffering. Hardly a district where thousands of acres are not submerged, farm homesteads carried away, cattle drowned, and railway tracks undermined. It has been a time, too, of severe gales. The very boat by which I returned to England, a few days ago, was struck on the previous trip by a huge wave, which swept away captain, mate, and three men from the bridge; though happily, as it came obliquely, they were dashed about on to the quarter-deck, and not carried overboard.

The visit of the Prince of Wales is exciting immense enthusiasm among the natives; but there has been a fear lest it might be interrupted by the threatening aspect of affairs between Turkey and her neighbours. The South Russian troops are mobilized and ready for movement; and the fear has been that, seeing Turkey must fall to pieces, Russia would establish itself at Constantinople—a step to which some other parties would have to express an opinion. Things look calmer just now; but these alarmist rumours have been used for dragging down foreign stocks, and the commercial world is uneasy.

Commencing with the 8th instant no payment in money of the postage of letters addressed to British colonies is allowed, but stamps must be affixed. This is to enable the Post Office to comply with one of the provisions of the Postal Union, and to prevent prepaid letters being charged as unpaid letters at the place of destination.

The Congregational body has lost one of its foremost men in David Thomas, of Bristol; and the Baptists one of their leaders in Dr. Brock, late of Bloomsbury.

CRICKET.

NEW SOUTH WALES v. VICTORIA.
[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1875.

THE unexpectedly rapid completion of the Intercolonial match led to an arrangement between Mr. Handfield, the Honorary Secretary of the Victorian Cricketers Association, and Mr. Coates, captain of the New South Wales team, that the day which should have witnessed the termination of the great game should be whiled away with a single wicket match between two parties of five, each party to represent one colony. Boyle, Horan, Cosstick, Alexander, and Kelly were to play for Victoria; for New South Wales, Sheridan, Spofforth, Bannerman, E. Gregory, and Thompson. Play was to commence at 2 o'clock on Thursday, but the non-appearance of Boyle and Horan caused the delay of an hour; and at 3 o'clock the Victorians took the field, Mr. Curtis Read and Mr. Kendall (of Victoria) fielding for the absentees. Mr. Boyle would doubtless have played in the match, but that although he was selected to play he was not informed of the fact, and Mr. Horan, who afterwards came to the ground similarly uninformed, at once donned the flannels and relieved Mr. Read. The game needs little description. The second innings of Victoria in the main match was a "farce;" but in the single wicket match, the behaviour of Victoria round the rails completely divested the game of all its ludicrous aspect. Sheridan baffled the efforts of the opposing five, mastering each successive bowler until, by his own inertness, a scorer of only nine runs, he had been at the wickets for more than an hour. Then an adjournment was made—for what purpose I know not. In the interval (which lasted but a few minutes), the ground was rushed by a hundred or so of people, who, when the players attempted to resume their stations, evinced strong objections to the continuation of Sheridan's performance. The crowd seemed to lack the good taste which should have persuaded them to allow the emergency man of New South Wales to complete actually, as he had already done virtually, the defeat of his opponents. They have yet to learn a lesson which their cricket representatives have already taught us of New South Wales, and in their own interests I hope that, as we once did, they will yet acquire the philosophic patience which is gotten by the suffering of repeated defeats. Although we have three times in succession beaten our neighbours we have nothing to brag of, because there remains a heavy balance against us. But although I freely admit that upon the whole Victoria has hitherto far surpassed us in cricket, I must express my charitable hope that, in manners, those who are accustomed to line the rails of the Victorian cricket grounds will take pattern from the general conduct of their northern neighbours. The crowd demanded the return of a shilling each, but the impudent claim was justly refused, as their conduct showed that a large number of them must have climbed the fences. The players endeavoured, more than once, to continue the game, but the pseudo-patriotism of the spectators had completely overpowered their sense of fair play, so the stumps had to be drawn, to the annoyance as much of the Victorian players as of our men, because the cricketers of this colony, individually as well as collectively, have been to our team equally honourable and hospitable. I think it unnecessary to append the account of Sheridan's runs, and of the bowling of his opponents. The matter had better be forgotten, for I am sure that the roughs who prevented play are scorned for their conduct by the real lovers of cricket in this colony. I am bound in fairness to add that there were no policemen present.

THE DINNER.

On Thursday evening, 29th December, the two elevens, at the invitation of the Cricketers' Association, dined in the Athenæum Hall. A very large number of gentlemen were present, and the company included nearly all the prominent supporters of cricket here. The chair was filled by Mr. D. C. Macarthur, whose office in the association entitled him to that position, and whose hospitality to cricketers and energy in the support of the game qualify him to preside at all such gatherings. I need not report the speeches, which were very well made, for all your readers know what is usually said at the dinner which follows an intercolonial match. Mr. Evans received from the association a handsome epergne, as the best bowler of the match, and Bannerman became the owner of a fine chased silver jug and an elegant cup—the one for making the highest aggregate, and the other for being the best single-innings scorer in the match. The dinner was admirably served, and accorded well with the kindness and hospitality which have characterised the reception and treatment of our men at the hands of the newly organized Cricketers' Association of Victoria.

PARRAMATTA.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

CORONER'S INQUEST.—COMMITTAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—The District Coroner held an inquest at Moore's Wheat-Sheaf Inn, Haslem Creek, on the 7th instant, touching the death of a lad named John M'Cosker, aged about 15 years, whose death was the result of a stab received on the previous afternoon. Senior-constable Fowler stated: On Thursday, shortly after 5 o'clock p.m., I proceeded from Parramatta to the meat works, at Haslem Creek; I went to the manager's office and I arrested Thomas Greer, and went to where the body of the deceased was lying; blood was oozing from the mouth; he was quite dead; I then charged Thomas Greer with having murdered the deceased, and took him into custody; he muttered the word "yes"; I then gave him the proper caution, and he said, "He threw a piece of meat at me; I did not mean to do it"; he afterwards said in the yard of these premises, "I had not the knife in my hand when he hit me"; I produce a butcher's knife which was handed to me by Mr Gee, the manager of the meat works, in Thomas Greer's presence; the blade to the distance of over four inches from the point is covered with blood; the blade is six inches in length; I also produce a stick with some spun yarn tied to one end of it which I also received from the manager, in Thomas Greer's presence; after I arrested Thomas Greer, I turned the body of deceased over in his presence, at the sheep-pen, and examined it; I then found a wound under the blade of the left shoulder; it was of corresponding width to the blade of the knife; Greer stood by, crying, but did not say anything; with the assistance of Mr. Gee's men, the body was brought to where it is now lying; Dr. Rutter saw the body before its removal; I searched Thomas Greer at the meat works; I found on him only one onion; I produce the shirt and under-shirt, which I have taken from off the body of deceased; they are saturated with blood, and the parts corresponding to the wound in deceased's shoulder are perforated as if by the knife produced; Greer entered the Roman Catholic Orphan School in March, 1862, and was then seven years of age, and is now, according to the records, about 21 years of age. John Johnson, having been sworn, stated: I knew the deceased on whom this inquest is being held; at about a quarter to 4 o'clock p.m. yesterday the deceased was at the Meat Preserving Works engaged cutting the hide off bullocks' feet, at a bench in the yard, alone; the knife is mine; I had lent it to him, and it is the one he was using; I never gave Thomas Greer now before the Court authority to get the knife; I am an employé at the meat works, and was at my work about five yards from the deceased; Greer works usually in the main building attending the tin smiths putting tins into their benches, and carrying them away when done with; Greer came to the door of the building, and spoke to a boy named Brennan, who also works there; he then came past me and went to the bench where the deceased was working; they seemed to be having a wrangle about something; I could not say which began it, or what it was about; I did not hear what was said; I then saw the deceased throw down the knife on to the bench; he then picked up a piece of wood, I think a piece of batten, about 15 inches long and an inch wide, and made as if he would strike Greer with it; he did not strike at him, but merely waived the stick as if to intimidate him; Greer then took the knife off the bench and ran away with it; as he was running he slipped and fell over a drain about two yards from where he took the knife; while he was in the act of rising the deceased took the whip (produced) and struck him three or four times with it sharply; directly Greer regained his feet he threw the knife at the deceased, who was then about 6 feet from him; he did not say anything; the deceased, on the knife being thrown, turned as if he was going to run away; the knife stuck into his body; deceased took the knife out himself and threw it on the bench; I said to Greer,—"You rascal, you've stuck the knife in the boy;" he said, I "did not mean to do it;" the Thomas Greer now in Court is the person I refer to; the deceased began to reel, and I ran and caught him; he said, "O, I'm done;" a second or two after he said, "O! I'm dying, Mr. Johnson;" I then called for assistance; I became much excited; some one came and assisted to carry the deceased through the slaughter-house into the main building, and he was laid on a trestle; he died almost immediately after; about six or seven minutes elapsed from the time of his being stuck and his expiring; we carried him a distance of seventy or eighty feet; he bled very much; the blood spurted out over my boots; I could not keep clear of it; I now produce the stick or batten I before referred to; the affair took place at about 4 o'clock p.m.; Greer did not speak when deceased struck him with the whip, but directly he regained his feet he threw the knife at deceased; at the time the knife was thrown there were in the yard William Tighe, Joseph Skinner, and another man, whose name I have been told is George Merrix; they are all employés at the works; I do not know whether the deceased and Greer had any previous quarrel, or whether there was any ill-feeling between them; Greer has been about seven months at the works, on and off, and was a butt for the other boys; he was thought to be rather "soft," and they took advantage of it; all the boys skylarked with one another, but Greer was the target for the lot of them; the last I saw of the knife, until I saw it in Court, was when it was lying on the bench where the deceased threw it; Greer has always been an inoffensive sort of boy during his stay at the works until this occurrence; the deceased was a quiet good boy, not at all quarrelsome. The evidence of the previous witness was corroborated by that of William Tighe and George Merrix. Dr. Robert Champley Rutter, having been sworn, deposed: Yesterday evening, at about 6 o'clock, I was called by the police to visit the deceased; I found him lying on a trestle or bench at the Haslem Creek Meat Preserving Establishment, and dead; I examined the body, and found a punctured wound beneath the lower angle of the left scapular or blade bone, from which a large quantity of blood had flowed; blood had also oozed from his mouth and nose; I have this day made a post-mortem examination, and found externally a wound about an inch in length passing between the fourth and fifth ribs, and penetrating the left lung to the depth of between three and four inches, the wound penetrating from behind obliquely and upward, and which wound was the cause of death; the wound is such as would have been produced by the knife now in Court; the knife must have been thrown with considerable force to have penetrated so far. David Thompson, a lad belonging to the works, having been sworn, deposed; about 1 o'clock p.m. yesterday, I said to some of the boys at the works, the deceased being one, "Come and let us have a lark with Tom;" we then went to where Tom Greer, now in Court, was sitting down and eating his dinner; deceased and some of the other boys began to throw fat in Greer's face; deceased then ran away, when a boy named Kelly caught hold of him and called to Greer to come and warm him; Greer went and gave deceased two or three tips, but did not hurt him; deceased then picked up a piece of board and threw it at Greer; Greer had first thrown a piece at deceased; it was all in play; afterwards, at about 2 o'clock, deceased again went larking with Greer; Greer said to him, "Stop playing, I'll drop it;" both of them then went to their work; Greer and deceased were always on good terms; deceased wanted Greer to fight him yesterday about 2 o'clock, and teased him, saying, "O, you're frightened." The jury returned a verdict of "Manslaughter against Thomas Greer, under circumstances of great provocation." Greer was then committed for trial to the next Sittings at Darlinghurst.

COMMERCIAL.

PRODUCE CIRCULARS.

MORT AND CO.—Wool: We have to report that at our sale on Wednesday there was every disposition to do business at fair rates for good-conditioned lots of both greasy and washed fleece, but inferior and faulty were not in very active request, except at lower rates than owners were disposed to take. Scoured wools were also in less active demand. We submitted a catalogue of 2400 bales, of which over 1500 bales were disposed of, the balance being bought in at a shade over buyers' estimate of value. One very nice parcel of washed fleeces, consisting of 65 bales of the well-known KY brand realised 20½d for the fleece. This day we held a supplementary sale, consisting of odd lots and remnants of clips, and cleared 80 lots at satisfactory prices. The principal lots were as follows:—Grease, FC, 12 bales at 10½d; SM over Long Beach, 6 at 9¾d; WH over W, 30 at 10½d; JT over The Glen, 23 at 9¾d, 4 pieces at 5½d; WPM, 82 at 10d, 9 bellies and broken at 5½d; BES, 6 at 10d, 1 lambs at 10d; S over C, 74 at 9½d, 7 pieces and locks at 5½d; JOHN, 4 at 1½d; WTW, 4 at 9¼d, 2 pieces at 4½d; JB conjoined W, 17 at 9d; KY, 1 at 6¾d; ABC over Yarraman, 23 at 9¾d; JC in square, 45 at 9¾d; GDG, 15 at 8d; M18 in square over Ironbong, 11 at 9¾d, 6 lambs at 9¾d; AP over J, 3 at 10½d, 3 at 9¾d, 4 at 10½d; MB over HC, 38 at 9d, 9 bellies and broken at 5½d, 3 skirts at 5d, 5 lambs at 7½d; V, 34 at 9½d, 1 locks at 4d; RJR, 60 at 8½d, 5 bellies and broken at 4½d; W in diamond, 31 at 11d, 3 skirts at 6½d, 2 bellies at 4½d; JP over O, 11 at 10d, skinwool and locks at 3½d; ET over E, 12 at 10½d; VA, 4 at 8d; IH, 3 at 8½d; JMA, 7 at 9¾d; W over WP, 8 at 10¾d; JAC, 5 at 9d; KK, 3 at 8¾d; JJT, 3 at 9½d; GB over P in diamond, 3 locks at 3½d; fleece, R*R over 3, 31 at 16½d; JH conjoined, 7 at 1[illegible]d; Glanavon over 1M over 3; 36 at 17¾d, 3 bellies at 9¾d; BFS, 46 at 19d, 9 pieces at 14d, 2 locks at 10½d; W diamond, 30 at 17½d; WJ, 10 at 17½d; JB conjoined W, 98 at 19d, 8 bellies and pieces at 12½d; TS, 39 at 17d; AN, 8 at 16¾d; WB, 16 at 16d, 1 clips at 9d; ES in square, 81 at 17½d; JG, 1 at 16½d; KY, 65 at 20½d, 9 pieces at 16½d, 5 locks at 11¾d; JR over Winfold, 13 at 16d; OT over Winfold, 7 at 16d; BR conjoined, 16 at 17d, 3 pieces at 11d; MC over Y, 11 at 18d; RW over [illegible], 14 at 17½d; MC, 20 at 19d; PIT, 10 at 16½d; GDG, 31 at 15¾d; AWC, 20 at 15½d; BD, 7 at 15d, 1 pieces at 5d; JHD conjoined over Mudgee, 15 at 18d, 1 pieces at 9½d; LN over J in square, 7 at 15½d; EG, 8 at 16d; JB over Gocgonga, 30 at 18d; JD over J, 3 at 14d; Z over T, 16 at 17½d; JTB, 7 at 15½d; GSS, 13 at 17d; CV, 5 at 16¾d; AG over M, 7 at 16d; o over oo, 2 at 16½d; JM conjoined, 4 at 14d; JMR, 3 at 17½d; JW over [illegible], 6 at 16d; BM, 4 at 16½d; CW over N, 5 at 16d. Sheepskins were in improved request, and a large catalogue was cleared at from 4d to 5½d per lb., according to condition and quality. Hides: There was better competition at our sale this morning, but no improvement in prices can be quoted. Some of the tanners find their operations much interfered with by the continued dry weather and the consequent scarcity of water for the pits; when this difficulty is overcome values will probably advance, although the state of the leather market is not so satisfactory as we could wish. We cleared a large number of hides this morning at from 4½d to 4¾d for medium salted, and 4½d to 5d for dry-conditioned. Horse Hides were dull at late quotations, and a considerable proportion of the lots offered had to be passed for improved prices. Present rates are—medium, 5s 6d to 6s 6d; large sizes, 7s to 9s per hide. Hair: A large quantity was disposed of to-day at prices about equal to those recently ruling; tail is worth 20d to 24d; mixed, 16d to 19d; and mane, 8d to 12d per lb. Leather: The sales this week passed off without much animation—sole realizing 9d to 10½d for trade purposes, and 9d to 9½d for shipment; harness, 11d to 12d for medium, and 13½d to 14d for best; horse tweed, 24d to 27d; cow ditto, 26d to 28d; calf, 34d to 44d; kip, 17½d to 19d. Kangaroo skins are difficult of sale, and worth, say, 10s to 15s for good, and 6s to 9s per dozen for small and inferior. Sharkbones are salable at £7 to £10 per ton for best; inferior-conditioned are not much wanted. Horns: A large number were disposed of to-day, quotations being 18s to 26s per 100 for large and sound, and 10s to 15s for small and inferior-conditioned. Tallow: There was not much demand for shipment at to-day's sale, and the bulk was consequently held over; the trade also bought sparingly at about late rates. Quotations: Beef—fair to good, £32 to £34; inferior, £27 to £29; mixed £28 to £31; mutton, say, £35 to £36 per ton. Our sales were:—G in diamond, 4 at £29 10s; TH, 3 at £26 15s; AS, 1 at 27s; WR, 1 at £29 10s; JL, 10 at £30. Tin Ore: This market is rather dull; the quantity arriving is, however, inconsiderable, and will all be required for local smelters. Quotations range from 13s 8d to 13s 7d per unit for good assays.—January 7.

HARRISON, JONES, AND DEVLIN.—Wool: 6224 bales offered, 2659 sold. A very fair disposition to operate, and a considerable amount of wool has been disposed of publicly and by private contract since the last sales, prices remaining unaltered from our last report. The bulk of the wool is now in, owing to the greater facilities for transit by the extended lines of railway. The sales ranged for fleece, 14d to 20½d; greasy, 7½d to 10¾d; scoured, 15½d to 21¾d. We catalogued 1909 bales, and our sales since our last report have been 1658 bales, viz.:—Fleece: SC over B, 33 at 17½d; M in circle, 134 at 19d; 17 bellies and pieces, 9d to 11d; HFC, 11 at 17¾d; TFN, 90 at 16½d; HM'L, 27 at 17¾d; JL, 29 at 16d; K over F, 24 at 16d; L&C, 6 at 15½d; L, 5 at 16½d; [illegible] over [illegible], 6 at 15½d; NC, 20 at 17d; PH, 15 at 16½d; [illegible] over Z, 15 at 15d; JH, 6 at 16d; X, 7 at 17d; RFS, 67 at 18½d, 6 pieces at 8d; HH, 15 at 14½d; JT, 11 at 17¾d; HBS, 8 at 15d; AF, 18 at 16½d; JHC, 10 at 14¾d; —C, 24 at 15¾d; M&S, 10 at 14d; Basingstoke, 21 at 17d; D&G, 21 at 15½d; HMC, 10 at 18d; TSH, 7 at 16d; JO, 5 at 16d; GA, 7 at 16d; JB, 8 at 18d; HB, 10 at 17½d; FQ, 23 at 18d; greasy, ATS, 86 at 9½d; TYL, 100 at 1½d, 25 pieces and locks at 4½d to 6d; JFK, 10 at 9d; JA, 6 at 9d; JN, 16 at 9½d; F, 19 at 9½d; WB, 38 at 10d; MOR, 11 at 10½d; GM, 6 at 9d; SS, 10 at 9½d; JC, 10 at 8½d; MH, 9 at 10d; JMG, 41 at 10½d, 6 lambs at 10½d; PP, 4 at 9d; MTC, 11 at 10d; MJ, 10 at 9d; JHC, 11 at 8½d, 5 pieces at 5d; HH, 9 at 9½d; JT, 56 at 10d; FY, 5 at 9d; MAJ, 14 at 9d; RV, 18 at 9d; M&P, 16 at 8¾d; Colville, 24 at 8¾d; JB, 7 at 9d; DR, 40 at 9d; scoured, T&R, 6 at 21¾d, 29 at 21d; EHL, 7 at 18½d, 164 odd lots. Sheepskins: These must be quoted slightly easier, on account of the large supply forward, coupled with the great want of water at the fellmongering establishments. The sales ranged—for beef, 6d to 8d; medium, 5½d to 6¾d; pelts and short wool, 2d to 5d. We cleared a large quantity at full rates. Tallow: Both shipping and trade buyers were very poorly represented at the sales, and only a small portion of the catalogues were cleared at similar prices to those ruling at last sales. The sales ranged—for mutton, 34s to 36s; beef, 31s to 33s; mixed, 28s to 30s. We sold—Mixed, FB, 2 at 35s; GH, 6 at 30s; WIG, 1 at 30s; PM, 1 at 39s; BR, 1 at 33s; PS, 3 at 29s 6d; FRW, 4 at 30s; GHD, 1 at 29s 9d; WD 3 at 29s 3d; T&GB, 2 at 28s; odd lots, 14s 9d to 29s 3d. Quotations—Mutton, £37 to £38; beef, £34 to £35; mixed and station, £28 to £30. Hides: The catalogues were heavy, owing to there being no sales for the past two weeks, and the attendance poor, but owing to the pressure of a shipping buyer prices were firm at last rates. Best heavy realised 4½d to 4¾d, heavy 4½d to 4¾d, medium 4d to 4½d, light 4½d to 4¾d. We sold—Butchers', 300 at 4½d; WG, 6 at 4¾d; GHD, 7 at 4¾d; Leather, 20 at 4½d; FLJ, 27 at 4¾d; odd lots, 4½d to 4¾d; calf and yearling, 3s 5d to 7s 6d. Leather: In consequence of the small attendance of buyers very little business was done this week—holidays doubtless interfering with the trade. Prices remain unaltered—sole, best 9½d to 10½d, medium 9d to 9¾d; kip, best 17½d to 19d, medium 15½d to 16½d; harness, 12d to 14d; horse tweed, 18d to 23d; cow tweed, 24d to 32d; leg, 14s to 16s (according to size); calf, 36d to 42d. Tin ore: Less ore has come forward this week than for a very long time past and the larger portion of what has come has been sent for smelting on owners' account. Few sales of ore have taken place during the week, but prices of last week are easily obtained, viz., 13s 9d per unit. Tin: This market remains much about the same. Freights to London are so low that buyers are able to give a full price for metal. Tin is scarce, and worth £74 10s per ton.—January 7.

J. BRIDGE.—Wool was in better demand this week, at prices all round quite equal to those ruling hitherto this season. Sheepskins were plentiful, and sold at 4d to 7d. Leather was in better demand and sold as follows:—Sole, 10d to 18d; harness, 13d to 15d; kip, 17d to 19½d; calf, 3s to 3s 6d; cow tweed, 20d to 29d; horse tweed, 18d to 26d, and so on. Hides, owing to a demand for shipment showed symptoms of recovery, sound weighty parcels selling at 4½d to 4¾d; light weights, 4d to 4½d; inferior parcels unsalable. Tallow: Shipping parcels firm; beef, 32s to 36s; mutton, 35s to 38s; trade parcels dull of sale. Horns, 15s to 28s. Hair: Horsetail, 18d to 22d; oxtail, 7d to 14d; mixed, 16d to 17d. Bones, 6s to 13s, demand uncertain. Beeswax, 10d to 12d, and in demand. Black oil, £40 to £45 per tun. Tin ore in sales in steady demand at recent prices. Flour dull of sale, at 11s to 12s for best. Maize scarce, at 4s to 4s 6d. Sugar in active request, dark and ration parcels being exceedingly scarce.—January 7.

MAIDEN, HILL, AND CLARK.—Wool: The first sales of this year by the associated auctioneers were held on Tuesday last, and as the attendance of buyers was good, very fair competition existed for the various descriptions offered. The catalogues were tolerably well cleared, and the decline noticed in our last report was fully recovered. The demand was principally noticeable on superior lines. The freights on the berth for London being on the rise may probably induce owners to accept marketable rates. Our quotations are—Scoured, 14d to 24d; fleece, 15d to 22d; greasy, 7d to 11½d; locks and pieces, half-price. Sheepskins: Very few parcels of good to superior skins are coming forward, those catalogued are readily taken at 6d to 7½d; pelts are dull at 2d to 3d per lb. Leather: We have done a large business since we last reported, and there is still a full supply of all descriptions on hand. At present we have no improvement to notice in this market; but as the new year has now commenced we may shortly be able to report a reaction. We quote as follows:—Harness, 13½d to 15d; kip, 18d to 21d; sole, 9½d to 10½d, per lb.; bridle, 14s to 15s; bag, 13s 9d to 15s 6d per side. Hides: Heavy and medium weighted butchers' are in demand for shipment at 4½d to 4½d; light and dry are very difficult to quit even at greatly reduced prices. Horse-hides are in fair demand for prime parcels; calf and yearling are dull of sale. Quotations are—prime heavy, 4½d to 4½d; heavy, 4½d to 4½d; medium weights, in damp condition, 4½d to 4¾d; light and dry, 4d to 4½d per lb.; horse hides, 6s to 8s 6d; calfskins, 3s to 5s; yearling, 5s 6d to 7s each. Tallow: Shippers do not seem disposed to operate; local buyers are evidently prepared to buy, but at such a reduction in values as the auctioneers do not feel disposed to submit to. Quotations—Beef, 31s to 33s; mutton, 34s to 37s 6d; station, 25s 6d to 32s per cwt. Hair is in moderate request, but at greatly-reduced prices, viz., horse-tail, 18d to 20d; mane, 14d to 15d; cow-tail, 11d to 13d; stumps, 4d to 5½d per lb.—January 7.

STOCK AND STATION REPORTS.

SULLIVAN AND SIMPSON.—Stations: We cannot report any change. Very few are disposed to purchase until there is change in the weather, unless at a reduction upon the rates lately ruling. Fat Cattle: On Monday there were 746 yarded; the condition of most of them only middling. Nearly all the lots arriving show the effects of the state of the road, and are all more or less cut up. On Thursday 580 were penned, and the quality a little better than Monday; and for prime picked pens there was an average rise of about 10s per head compared to last week's rates, but for middling conditioned lots prices remain about the same. We quote picked lots worth 20s to 21s per 100 lbs.; fair to good, 17s to 18s. We have this week sold 146 cows and bullocks on account of Mr. R. G. Higgins, from his Bogera station, at an average of £6 4s, the best pen being purchased by Mr. William Buttel, of Pitt-street, at £9 1s per head; they were very prime. We also sold on Thursday, 148 bullocks on account of Mr. John Brown, of Currenbor, at an average of £6 18s 8d. Fat Sheep: A much smaller supply forward this week than last, and the result was prices improved to the extent of about 6d per head upon last week's rates. We quote 56-lb. wethers worth 8s 6d, 54-lb ditto, 7s 6d; 50-lb ditto, 6s 6d. We have this week sold 519 ewes on account of Mr. W. F. Buchanan, at 5s 3d. Store Cattle: There are a few gentlemen disposed to purchase this class of stock, and as soon as we get rain we expect to close for one or two large lots. Quotations unaltered, but if anything in favour of buyers. Store Sheep: Very little movement in this class of stock. There are a few buyers coming forward for well-grown wethers, but they expect to get them for lower prices than lately ruling; but as soon as we get rain large lots will change hands.—January 7.

G. M. PITT AND SON.—Fat Cattle: A large supply having come forward on Monday, the opening sales were extremely dull, except for best pens, and had it not been for the Meat Company's agent (Mr. Gee) operating, it would have been next to impossible to have cleared the yards. There was a revival yesterday, however, and prices advanced fully 10s per head on Monday's sales, the best pens averaging 21s per 100 lbs. The late glut appears now to have nearly ceased, so that we may look forward to higher rates ruling. Our sales have been—207 head (Thomas Cook's), averaging £6 2s 6d; 200 head (G. D. Lane's), averaging £4 19s 5d; and 24 head (Bucknell, Brothers'), averaging £5 14s 8d. Fat Sheep: The continued extreme depression in this market can be traced to no reliable cause. Prime wethers fetching less than boiling or store prices, we would advise all who can afford to do so to defer making further despatches until a reaction takes place. We have sent back to the station a flock of 2000 at the owner's request. Our sales have been—1780 ewes (E. Vickery's) at quotations. Fat Lambs: We have sold 100 shorn at 8s 6d to 10s. Pure Stock: We sold by auction at Warrah, on the 5th instant (on account of the A. A. Co.), 102 head (Buce's) at an average of £17 8s 6d. The principal buyers were—The Scottish Investment Co., and M'Ilwraith, Smythe, and Co., of Queensland; and Messrs. Hughes and Maher, Morse Brothers, Thomas Cook, White Brothers, and D. M'Intyre, of New South Wales.—January 7.

MAIDEN, HILL, AND CLARK.—Fat Cattle: Monday's sales opened with a better tone this week than what it has done for the last six weeks, and we think that the glut is now over, and it is quite certain that, if we do get such a glut again, the quality of the stock will be much inferior to what we have had, because, from the state of the roads, it is impossible to land stock here in prime condition, however good they may be on leaving the station. Thursday's sales shared a further advance of 10s a head, and for all qualities we look for better rates, particularly on prime quality. We quoted—Best bullocks from £7 to £8; cows from £6 to £7; inferior lots, store prices. We sold on account of Mr. R. Hill 92 of his Butterbone cattle at an average of £6 8s. Fat Sheep: This market is completely glutted, and only boiling rates can be obtained; this state of affairs is likely to continue so long as it is dry, as the back water is fast going, compelling graziers to send stock away which otherwise they would keep. We have this week sold on account of Mr. D. M'Mahon 1750 wedders from his Tooloom station. Quotations this week—Best wedders from 7s to 8s; second quality from 6s to 6s 6d. Store Stock: Nothing doing. Stations: Very few inquiries, nor do we expect much business will be done until we have had a thorough change in the season.—January 7.

HARRISON, JONES, AND DEVLIN.—Stations: No business under this head has been made public this week, the uncertain state of the season keeping some transactions back. Fat Cattle: 1339 forward. This was a slight over-supply, but the quality was pretty fair. Prime pens were well competed for, and sold at an advance of 7s 6d upon last week's rates. We sold—190, chiefly cows, W. R. Chapman's, £5 17s. Fat Sheep: 6647 yarded. This was a smaller supply, and a store buyer coming into the market and clearing off a large number of those left over from last week, the market was so far assisted as to improve the value from 6d to 1s on the better qualities. 56-lbs. wethers are worth 8s to 8s 6d, lighter weights in proportion. We sold 800 wethers, Dangar, Brothers', at 8s.; 1200 wethers, G. Richardson's, to 6s. 6d.; 230 lambs, J. Hurley's to 11s. 9d. Store Cattle: There has been no alteration in this market, the demand having entirely ceased, and we hardly look for much improvement until the seasons alter. Quotations: Bullocks, good (South), £6 to £6 10s; mixed sexes (South), £5 15s to £6; bullocks (North), £4 10s to £5; mixed sexes (North), £4 to £5. Store Sheep: The only transactions we have heard of this week are the purchases made by a gentleman of sheep at the Homebush yards to send back to the country, fat sheep having been at store prices last week. Quotations: Wethers, 6s to 7s; maiden ewes, 8s to 10s; breeding, 5s to 6s.—January 7.

J. BRIDGE.—Under the head of stations and store stock there is but one thing to report—great dulness owing to continued want of rain. Fat cattle are plentiful, and the quality worse. Prices much the same. Sheep, 6s to 8s each, and very plentiful. Calves, 12s to 38s, according to quality. Lambs, although not scarce, are in request at 7s to 11s. Pigs sold this week at extreme prices, viz., 6d to 8d per lb.—January 7.

P. N. TRENCH.—Stations: The inquiry for stations has not been quite so brisk during the past week. I have been negotiating with some western proprietors for well-grassed New England country, but cannot report sales yet. Store Cattle: Very few are either being offered or inquired for, and, until we get a general rainfall, very little business will be done. Store Sheep: I have had inquiries for young breeding ewes, and could place from 5000 to 10,000 good sheep at a fair figure. Fat Cattle: The market has been fully supplied again. For best quality prices have ranged from 18s to 17s 6d per 100 lbs.; second quality, 14s 6d to 15s 6d. Fat Sheep: Very large supplies have again come forward—many have been sold at boiling rates. Two or three large boiling establishments are much needed to reduce the excessive numbers that are now in the market. Best wethers are selling up to 7s 6d.—January 7.

W. INGLIS.—Fat Cattle: There were a fair number to hand, but the market was much brisker, and there was an improvement of from 1s to 20s per head since last week. Best beef is worth from 16s to 21s per 100 lbs. Sheep: About the usual supply forward, and no material alteration in prices. Quotations: Best wethers, 9s 6d to 11s 6d. Milch Cows: Market dull, except for first-class, which command a fair price. I sold 20, from £4 10s to £8 17s 6d. Calves: Demand much brisker this week, and considerable improvement in prices. I sold 30 (Badgery) at 21s 6d to 42s, and some smaller lots at quotations. Lambs: There is a fair demand for good ones. My sales were:—40 (M'Innes) at 8s 6d to 12s 3d; 40 (Warren) at 6s 9d to 9s 3d. Pigs: Supply abundant, and demand brisk. Sold about 200, from 12s 6d to 51s.—January 7.

GEORGE KISS.—The market for the past week rather of a holiday character, but the last few days a number of light horses have been disposed of, and more disposition for business. Amongst those sold were the following:—Mr. Anderson, a brown colt, £17 10s; Mr. Johnston, a bay mare, £10; Mr. Wiley, a bay gelding, buggy, and harness, £31; Mr. Robertson, two horses, £29 5s; Mr. Butler, 1 bay gelding, £13 10s; Mr. R. Hill, 2 bay ponies and set of harness, £48; Mr. M'Kinson, a bay gelding, £15; P. Daly, £20; Mr. G. Spence, 2 horses, £35 15s; Mr. J. Rebello, a bay colt, £13; and a number of horses from £5 to £8.—January 7.

SYDNEY LABOUR MARKET.

W. BROWN.—The labour market is characterized by no material change. The demand for men servants for city and suburban employment, and for light occupations generally is moderate, for which the supply is adequate. Married couples for stations and farms are in request, and are engaged with tolerable readiness at the current rate of wages. The demand for eligible female servants for town and country is considerable. Rates of wages are unchanged.—January 7.

The Edinburgh, submarine cable steamer, arrived yesterday from London, via Adelaide. She left Portland on 9th October, crossed the Equator on 9th November on meridian of Greenwich, rounded the Cape of Good Hope on 23rd November, and arrived at Adelaide on the 29th December, having made her easting on a parallel of 40° S. Fresh winds have been experienced throughout, the vessel having steamed all the way. Having laid down the electric cable between Yankalilla and Kangaroo Island she took her departure for this port at noon on the 2nd instant, arriving as above. The Edinburgh was formerly one of the Inman line of mail steamers, but is now fitted as a regular cable ship, and carries all the most modern appliances either for laying down or recovering a marine cable, and will be regularly stationed in Sydney for some years after completing the laying of the New Zealand cable, so as to be in immediate attendance should any mishap occur. She has on board a complete staff of engineers and electricians connected with the contractors, including Mr. Riddle, superintendent; Mr. Lawes, chief electrician; and Mr. Peak, engineer, on behalf of Messrs. Ford, Clark, and Co., of London.

The Egmont (s.) left Levuka on the 29th December, at 5.15 a.m.; passed Matthew's Island at 7 a.m., on the 31st; sighted Pine Island at 5 a.m., on the 1st instant, came to anchor at Noumea at 7.15 p.m. same day; left Noumea at 11 a.m. on the 3rd; cleared the reef at 1 p.m., sighted Port Stephens at 1 p.m. on the 7th, and arrived alongside the Company's wharf at 11.30 p.m. Experienced fresh S.E. and easterly wind from Levuka to Noumea; from Noumea to Sydney fresh S.S.E. wind and fine weather to latitude 26·54 S., longitude 160 E., thence to Sydney variable winds and fine weather. The barques Burnet and Meteor were lying at Levuka when the Egmont left.

The Lord Ashley (s.), left Noumea on Sunday 2nd January, at 10.30 a.m.; cleared the reef by the Bulari Pass at noon; made the land at Cape Hawke on Friday 7th, at 5 a.m.; arrived in Sydney same day at 7 p.m. Had variable winds and fine weather throughout the passage. Her cargo consists of 783 bags maize, 47 bags barley, 37 bags oats, 67 bags lime, 2 bags beeswax, 23 bags potatoes, 4 bags onions, 68 hides, 175 pieces cedar, 2 boxes tobacco, 16 cases eggs, 17 coops fowls, 4 pigs, 2 coops pigeons, 14 bags sugar, and sundries.

THE S.S. CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The first of the Pacific Mail Co. line of steamers, built specially to carry the mails between the colony and San Francisco, arrived on Thursday night. She is truly a splendid vessel, and fully bears out the glowing accounts that have reached us. The public will now have an opportunity of judging of the fine class of steamers the company intend employing in the service. So many first-class vessels have lately visited our port that it would almost appear invidious to draw comparisons, but in strict justice it is only fair to state that, whether in the form of hull or elaborate adornment of interior, it would be difficult to conceive any thing more perfect. The San Francisco was built at Chester (U.S.), by the well-known firm Messrs. John Roach and Sons, who have turned out many of the finest steamers afloat. She is 356 feet long, with a beam of 43 feet, and has three decks—viz., main, spar, and hurricane—on the same principle as the Colima, and, like the latter vessel, is similar in general appearance and arrangements. The dining saloon is placed on the main deck, from the after part of which runs an alley-way with enclosed cabins on either side. These apartments are fitted with every conceivable convenience, and elaborately furnished. Mention may especially be made of four large cabins, known as the bridal chambers. On the spare deck is a large well-ventilated withdrawing saloon, furnished with lounges, piano, &c.; and above this again, and immediately under the hurricane deck, is an elegantly-arranged boudoir. These several apartments are reached by broad massive staircases formed of solid rosewood. The furniture throughout is of crimson velvet, and richly carpeted. The panelling is formed of highly-polished American woods of the finest kinds, relieved by large mirrors, forming a general effect very difficult to describe. The after portion of the ship affords accommodation for 150 first-class passengers, which will convey some slight idea of the size. The comforts carried out for the second and third class passengers are of the same spacious character, but of course not so elaborate in ornamentation. The accommodation for the officers is on the spar deck, running forward from the upper saloon. The hurricane deck forms a fine promenade, right fore and aft, on the fore part of which is placed the wheel-house, with its steam-steering machinery. The fore part of the main deck is allotted to cattle and sheep pens, windlass, &c. The vessel is propelled by a four-bladed screw, driven by compound direct-acting engines of 600 h.p. nominal, which will give a mean speed of 12 knots without any extraordinary pressure, on a consumption of 50 tons of fuel per day, which is fully borne out by the fact of the splendid run from San Francisco, although only using one half the boiler power. The vessel is rigged as a barque, and shows a large spread of canvas. There are also ten large hydrants distributed about the decks, and immediately connected with the main engine; steam-winches are placed at the various hatchways, and every modern appliance has been brought to bear to economise labours. In short, the vessel appears perfect in every particula, and no expense has been spared by the company to make her a credit to the service.

TALK ON 'CHANGE.
"A year or two ago I contrasted the annual progress (as illustrated by new business) of the AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY with that of the leading English and Scotch companies. It then held an honourably high position, and now it has passed them all. Here are the figures showing the new business done by each in 1874:—

	New Premiums	New Policies.	Assuring.
Australian Mutual Provident	£12,907	3,291	£1,166,650
Scottish Provident...	38,260	2,481	1,120,572
Scottish Widows ...	37,004	1,961	1,152,304
Standard ...	35,891	1,671	1,088,655

That a company of purely Australian origin and management—one not indebted for an aggregation of business to any amalgamation of other companies—should thus head the list of all British life companies is something to awaken a sense of just pride. The companies which head the British list are all Scotch, thus illustrating the national characteristics of thrift, foresight, and energy. And yet our Australian society has beaten the Scotch upon their own especial ground, for its risks are distributed over a larger area, the policies being more numerous, and in their multiplicity lies their safety, according to the well-known formula of distributed casualty."—"Ægles," in the AUSTRALASIAN, of 11th December, 1875.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1876.

The Circular Letter of the Bishop of Sydney in regard to Episcopalian clergymen officiating in Nonconformist pulpits will probably disappoint many of the Bishop's friends and gratify some of his enemies. It appears that a short time ago Dr. Barry, one of the Bishop's clergymen, preached a sermon to a congregation of Wesleyan Methodists. To the outside world this certainly looks both an offence of small magnitude and an event of little importance. To the Bishop of Sydney, however, the offence appears to be one of serious import, and one that is worthy of being branded with emphatic condemnation.

We have no desire to interfere with the questions in dispute between the Bishop of Sydney and Dr. Barry. Much less are we disposed to meddle with the question whether it is desirable for clergymen of one Denomination to preach in churches belonging to other Denominations. We are all interested, however, in the question of ecclesiastical liberty, and none of us, at this season of the year especially, are supposed to be indifferent to the practical aspects of the much vaunted question of religious unity. We do not suppose that in the abstract the Bishop of Sydney is opposed to either religious unity or religious liberty. He has very many times stated just the contrary. No clergyman, certainly no Bishop, has more frequently given utterance to his desire for better understanding and for closer union between different bodies of Christians than the Bishop of Sydney; but if the Bishop really puts a broad interpretation on either Christian liberty or Christian unity, we fail to find any striking marks of this in the letter which we published on Tuesday last.

The question in dispute, as we understand it, is not whether it is desirable to adopt the practice of frequent interchanges of pulpits among different religious Denominations in these colonies. This, for various reasons, might be as strongly objected to by members of other religious bodies as by members of the Church of England. The point which Dr. Barry has put to the test is whether it is possible, under any circumstances, for an Episcopalian clergyman to conduct divine service in a nonEpiscopalian church.

The existence in this colony of a law against this, would settle the matter at once, for, whether laws be right or wrong, there can be no question as to the fact that those who accept laws bind themselves to keep them. But the Bishop and the Doctor seem to be agreed that the law which is still in force in England against interchange of pulpits is not in force in these colonies. The Bishop in his circular letter says himself that "the particular law of the Church of England by which a clergyman is prohibited from preaching in a dissenting chapel is not in force here, so that such an act is not illegal." It seems that the balance of testimony is quite in favour of this view. The judgment of Lord Romilly scarcely touches the point at all, unless it can be shown that the discipline of the Church of England in reference to interchange of pulpits is one of the things that is applicable to the colonies. Interchanges of pulpits are disallowed in England by definite laws, with definite penalties attached. Scarcely anybody would maintain that those laws and penalties are in force here. By the 21st section of the Act of Uniformity a dissenting minister would be liable "to suffer three months' imprisonment in the common gaol, without bail or mainprise," for officiating in the pulpit of the national Church. The opinion of Mr. Fitz-James Stephen, given about twelve months ago, was that interchanging pulpits is not a legal offence outside of England and Wales. Whether this opinion is decisive or not, it is, we suppose, worthy of being respected, until it is rebutted by some equally able opinion on the opposite side.

If it be admitted that interchanging pulpits is not forbidden in this country by law, it seems equally clear from Dr. Barry's letter that it is not forbidden by any ecclesiastical regulation which would have the force of law. The Bishop argues that the general practice of the clergy is against the course, and that that constitutes a rule that ought to be enough for Dr. Barry. But it is surely bold to claim that the mere practice of some men ought not only to shape the course but to bind the conscience of others. And it is bolder still to frame such a rule for one man before it is framed for other people. The general custom of the clergy, and perhaps the sentiments of no inconsiderable portion of the laity, are as truly against the practice of attending tea meetings in dissenting chapels, and of presiding over promiscuous prayer meetings in temperance halls, as against the preaching of a sermon in a dissenting chapel, and yet there are odd clergymen who go to these lengths sometimes as well as Dr. Barry. We cannot but think that if the lex non scripta is applicable to the particular service said to have been rendered by Dr. Barry, it is quite as applicable to services of other kinds which the Episcopalian clergy are here and there in the habit of rendering their Nonconformist friends.

What Ecclesiastical law and Synodical regulation have however failed to do in this colony has now been done by Episcopal mandate. In the circular letter to which we have referred the Bishop of Sydney requests "that a clergyman will not preach or hold service in the place of worship of another Denomination. I admonish him not to do so, and I believe the admonition to be one which he is bound to obey." Again, the Bishop of Sydney intimates that he regards it as the rule of the Church of England that her clergy should confine their ministrations to their own churches and people." If this be the rule of the Church of England, it would be interesting to know in what way Dr. Barker reconciles this rule of the Church of England with the story of a certain good Samaritan whose merit is made to turn upon the fact that, unlike the Priest and the Levite, he did not confine his ministrations to his own Church and people. We do not know whether Dr. Barry, for example, would in the absence of any other clergyman, have any right to perform an act of devotion over a dying Wesleyan Methodist, if such an one should happen to fall across his path; but if language has any meaning, such a ministration would directly contravene the authority of the Bishop of Sydney as laid down in this circular letter. The truth is that if the rule of the Church of England be really as stated by Bishop Barker that rule goes too far, or it does not go far enough. The ecclesiastical laws of England were framed for a state of society which no longer exists. They are the embodiments of public sentiments which are now neither held nor tolerated. Two or three centuries ago clergymen were forbidden by law to preach out of their own pulpits, because to countenance dissent or to fraternise with Dissenters as such in any shape was held to be not only irreligious but criminal. In England at present there is this ground for the continuance of a law against clerical fraternizations, that Nonconformity is in its very nature opposed to Church establishments, and that the clergyman who preaches for a Dissenter might be regarded as preaching against himself. But such an argument could have little or no weight here, and in England itself the laws against clerical interchanges are fast becoming unpopular and obsolete. If the spirit of the ecclesiastical laws of the seventeenth century is to be perpetuated in the nineteenth century, it ought to bring in authority to put a stop to a great deal of clerical co-operation on platforms and in committee-rooms, as well as in churches and pulpits. But there is no disputing the fact that the tendency of this age is in the direction of a good deal of comprehension and a good deal of liberty for the clergy as well as for the laity, and for Churches as well as for States, and that all excessive authority will defeat its own ends and promote the cause it aims to defeat. Circular letters that propose to settle everything by authority and nothing by reason are not the levers that are calculated to move the world. Few people care greatly, many care nothing, about interchanges of preachers and sermons. It may possibly be more sensible for clergymen to look after their own pulpits and let other people do the same thing. But from our point of view the interchange of reciprocities between different religious bodies, and the growth of a general good understanding between the different orders of religious teachers, are worthy of much consideration and of some sacrifice, and we do not think that these ends will be greatly served by the episcopal circular that we published the other day.

Those who find fault with Mr. Robertson's Agreements' Validating Bill seem to have overlooked that the essential purport of it is simply to do justice, and to prevent injustice. If an employer in the colony wants a particular kind and class of labour, and if he can find the men he wants in some other part of the world, where they are not so well off as they would be if taking service under him, it is surely a good thing that he should transplant them to this colony. It is good for him because it is to be supposed that he will then make a profit out of the employment of his capital in his particular industry; it is good for the workman, whose condition in life will be improved, and it is good for the colony, whose industrial population is increased. It seems a reasonable thing, therefore, that the Government should lend its assistance to such agreements being entered into. In doing so it has to see that justice is done to both the contracting parties, and that it holds an even balance to see as far as it can that they both play fair to each other.

The first person to be protected is the workman in some distant country. He may naturally be supposed to be more or less ignorant of the exact condition of the labour market here, and, while anxious to better his condition, he is open to be imposed upon by false pretences. Mr. Robertson's bill protects the intending immigrant against any imposition of this kind, as far as it is possible for the Government to interfere in the matter. It provides that the bargain shall be made under the inspection and signature of some authorized agent of the Government, and that this agent shall see that the workman contracting thoroughly understands what he is about, what is the average rate of wages in the colony for his trade, and how far the terms he is being offered are below it. Every engagement, therefore, made by the workman will be made with his eyes open, and with the best official protection that can be furnished against his being taken in. That certainly is doing justice to the workman as far as the Government can do it.

The next person to be looked after is the employer, and the bill provides that when he has made a straightforward engagement in the light of day, and under the inspection of a public officer, and has put his hand in his pocket to pay the passage of a servant to the colony, he shall have the benefit of those services for two years at the stipulated rate, and that the bargain shall be recognized everywhere in the Courts as a valid one, and that if the workman is not honest enough to carry out the bargain willingly he shall be made to do it, or punished for not doing it. That surely is but simple justice to the employer.

If such an arrangement can be made to work satisfactorily, it may serve a very good purpose. The rate of wages in the colony is so much higher than in other parts of the world that there is many a workman who has skill but who has not much spare cash, who will be glad to get his passage paid to the colony, and work guaranteed for two years; and will be quite willing during these two years to take a little less than the current rate of wages in return for his passage. On the other hand, there are many employers who, if they feel that they can trust to these bargains, will be perfectly ready to advance the necessary capital. The scheme, therefore, ought to work well for both parties. Perhaps it might be an improvement to add a clause providing that the indentures shall be cancelled on repaying to the employer the cost of the passage money, or an amount proportioned to the unexpired term of service.

Now what are the objections made to it? It is said that we do not want men imported here under any kind of bondage. Well, what bondage is there in agreeing to a term of service for two years? Within the colony itself the terms of one year are common enough, and there is no difference of principle between one year and two. Half the servants that are taken up-country give their services for a year, and very often the term is lengthened. There is no slavery whatever in giving a quid pro quo, and engaging to give a term of service for payment in advance. This is simply a fair bargain.

Then it is said that we shall not get the right sort of labour. The fact is that there is no better protection against getting the wrong sort of labour than by making the employer himself advance the funds necessary for bringing out the man he wants. When emigrants were selected for us by English Commissioners we were exposed to having foisted on us the sweepings of the gaols and poorhouses. When the remittance system was at work, we were also exposed to the risk, that though the persons imported were relatives or friends of somebody already here, they may have been very unsuitable colonists. But, when people put down their money distinctly to import the labour they want, we have the best possible guarantee that what is imported is exactly what is wanted—neither too much in quantity nor of the wrong quality.

Another objection is, that it will be unfair to the other colonies to import people thence under these agreements. But, in the first place, the cost of importing from these colonies is so slight that the bill is scarcely wanted for such a purpose; and, in the second place, it is quite possible to prevent the application of the bill to neighbouring colonies. Because it can only take effect where the Government appoints an agent to see that the contracts are fairly signed, and by abstaining from appointing such agents, the bill could not take effect. Moreover, any complaining colony has a very simple remedy in passing the same bill. We do not, therefore, see that the sensitiveness of the neighbouring colonies should be considered an argument against the measure. As we have already said, we look upon this bill as a very incomplete immigration scheme by itself; but at the same time it is a valuable adjunct. Nor ought the vote of £50,000, to be at all entrenched upon for bringing out the wives and children of persons imported under this Act. The Government certainly ought to bring out the family and juvenile members of these emigrants, not afterwards, as Mr. ROBERTSON suggests, but at the same time. But the money required to pay the passages of these dependent members of families ought to be voted in addition to the £50,000. That sum is little enough for emigration under the direct control of the Government; and though Mr. ROBERTSON says that it is more than he can spend in one year, we beg to point out that this shows a want of administrative energy. If he cannot spend that in one year, perhaps there are other people who can, and he may profitably take that fact into his consideration.

ST. ANDREW'S CATHEDRAL.—The following is the order of musical service for Sunday, January 9:—Magnificat, Arnold; Nunc Dimittis, Arnold; Anthem, "Judge me, O Lord," Mozart.

THE R. M. S. CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO.—By an advertisement which appears in another column, it will be seen that as this vessel will go through to San Francisco this month, intending passengers can select berths here, which will be retained for them until they join her at Fiji, where the Mikado, from Sydney, will connect.

PRAYER MEETINGS AT BURWOOD AND ASHFIELD.—During this week a series of united prayer meetings have been held at Burwood and Ashfield, all of which have been well attended. On Monday the meeting was held at the Congregational Church, Burwood, the Rev. G. G. Howden in the chair. Rev. J. C. Corlette delivered an address. The meeting on Tuesday took place at St. John's School, Ashfield; the address was delivered by the Rev. W. Lumsdaine, Rev. J. C. Corlette presided. On Wednesday, Rev. F. W. Ward delivered an address at the St. Paul's schoolroom, Burwood, Rev. R. W. Young in the chair. The Thursday meeting was held at the Wesleyan Church, Ashfield, and was presided over by Rev. G. G. Howden, and the address was delivered by the Rev. F. W. Ward. On all these occasions the addresses were highly appropriate, and were listened to with marked attention.

NEWCASTLE.—Our Newcastle correspondent writes:—"The grand amateur concert given in the City Hall, on the 5th, for the benefit of the Newcastle Hospital, was a grand success—the hall being crowded with a large and fashionable audience. The first and second parts consisted of a musical entertainment, in which the Misses Tourle and Ross and lady choristers distinguished themselves, their performances being highly applauded. The third part comprised a dramatic entertainment, in which Dr. S. Knaggs, Messrs. Phillips, Aggar, and Robinson took part, giving general satisfaction. The funds of the hospital will be largely augmented by the entertainment. The body of the unfortunate seaman who was drowned yesterday morning was found by the police this afternoon, the 6th, in the harbour."

ANNIVERSARY REGATTA.—The committee who have charge of the arrangements for the great annual event of the port are actively engaged in their duties, and expect that the sport on the 26th will be equal to that of any previous year. The Pacific Steamship Company have in the most handsome manner placed the Colima at the service of the public, and they will therefore have one of the finest flagships that could possibly be secured. Her spacious decks and elegant saloons will afford ample accommodation for all who pay her a visit.

BOTANIC GARDENS.—The Head-quarters Band will perform this day, at 3.30 p.m., under the direction of Lieutenant Callen, weather permitting.

A STRANGE MORNING COSTUME.—Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning constable Costigan, while on duty in William-street, noticed a man walking in the direction of Boomerang-street, and, suspecting from his appearance that something was wrong, he followed the early pedestrian, who turned up Crown-street. When overtaken it was found that he had nothing on but a crimean shirt, his head being bandaged. In reply to the constable's questions, it was ascertained that the man is a cabman, named Callaghan, and that he had left his house in Palmer-street a short time previously, with a vague idea of proceeding to the Infirmary. The matter having been reported at the watch-house, Darlinghurst, Callaghan was removed to his home.

EFFECTS OF COAL SMOKE ON GALVANIZED IRON.—It may not be generally known that galvanized iron when constantly exposed to the smoke of coal in this colony becomes most injuriously affected thereby; at least, such appears to be the case with the coal used on the Great Northern Railway. We (Maitland Mercury) are informed that the roof of the engine shed at Murrurundi, although not quite four years old, has been injured to such an extent by the smoke from the engines that it will shortly require to be renewed. The large quantity of sulphurous matter contained in the coal used on the Great Northern Railway is supposed, when ascending in vapours, to act on the chemical composition by which the iron has been impregnated and, nullifying the galvanization, cause the iron speedily to become rusty and useless for roofing purposes. In order to try an experiment, the Government intend to roof the engine shed, now building at Singleton, with hardwood shingles.

IMPORTED STOCK.—A short time back Mr. J. Rutherford, of the well-known coaching firm, Cobb and Co., took his departure for America. Yesterday he returned to the colony, bringing with him an interesting collection in the shape of four grand trotting horses from the leading breeding farm in Kentucky, and six well-bred Spanish asses from the same State. After their land trip of about 3000 miles by rail and the voyage, these animals looked in very fair condition, and during the day several lovers of horse stock inspected them at their temporary abode, Wooller's Yards. The horses, three colts and one filly, were universally and deservedly admired. They are excellent specimens of the breed for which America is so famous—the true-bred trotter, which should be well formed in the head and neck, high in wither, deep in chest, round in body, short in back, long in quarter, flat-legged, well haired, with wavy mane and tail, and hardy in appearance. Mr. Rutherford purchased these horses from Mr. L. Herr, of Forest Park, Lexington, Kentucky. Particulars are included in the following pedigrees: Alcyone, a brown colt without a spot of white, foaled spring 1874, by Mambrino Patchen.—Mija by West Australian, back to 7th dam which was by Buzzard. A dark bay colt, 3 years (unnamed) by Mambrino Patchen, dam by Star Davis, by imported Glencoe. A chestnut filly, rising 2 years, by Rothschilds (by Mambrino Patchen) dam by Bell Morgan, and a grey colt foaled in spring of 1875 by Mambrino Patchen, dam by the celebrated pacer Young America. Messrs. Cobb and Co. want good roadsters and these seem the horses to produce them from. With that object they are bound west to the Company's depot at Bathurst. The asses, 2 Spanish Jacks and 4 Jennets are to be kept by the same company for the purpose of breeding with well-bred mares hardy mules, animals which are in great demand in Queensland at the present time. The half-dozen as they stood at Wooller's looked as ugly and as hardy as donkeys should look. One of the Jacks, a 3-year-old, measured by the standard 15·3. His ears were a little higher than that. A Spanish Jack and Jennet presented by the King of Spain, in 1787, to General Washington, were described as huge and ill-shapen, about 16 hands high, with very large heads. Mr. Rutherford's Champion Jack is very close to the 1787 models, but, being more of the compound Maltese and Spanish breed, is not quite so ugly. At Messrs. Clibborn and Fennelly's Bazaar, some draught stock, Clydesdale's, just landed from the ship Darling Downs, imported by Messrs. Gilchrist, Watt, and Co., were on view. Of the lot, four mares and a colt are bound inland, for station purposes. A fine horse—a bay, with four white feet—Young Banker, by Banker, is for sale, and will soon be offered by auction, by Messrs. Clibborn and Co.

GAELIC SOCIETY OF NEW SOUTH WALES.—The usual monthly meeting of the Gaelic Society of New South Wales was held in the Temperance Hall, Pitt-street, last night. There was a good attendance of members, and the chair was filled by Mr. Francis Macnab, vice-president. Correspondence from the president of the society, who is now in Scotland, and from the Gaelic Society of Inverness, was read, and some Gaelic readings and translations were given. The discussion upon the question—"Which is the more useful to mankind, sheep or cattle?" was resumed, and again adjourned until next meeting. There was an unusual interest displayed in the discussion. It was resolved that the meetings of the society should for the future be held fortnightly instead of monthly. The president of the society is collecting in Scotland information which is likely to be useful to the society, and such Gaelic literature as will be suitable for the commencement of a library. There is every reason to believe that the society will be a success.

SANDS'S MONTHLY DIARY.—We have received from Mr. Sands the first number of his monthly diary for 1876. It is well printed, and in a convenient size to be carried in the pocket. In addition to a calendar for this year, it also contains the railway time tables.

M. SIMON.—From letters received by the mail via California we learn that by a decree of the President of the French Republic, dated 14th of November last, M. Simon, Consul of France in Sydney, has been made a Knight of the Legion of Honour—a distinction it is scarcely necessary to say much prized by his compatriots. This honour has been conferred, we understand, not merely in view of his past services as a representative of France, but specially as an acknowledgment of the efforts he has made since he has been amongst us to open a direct trade between this colony and France. How far such a trade can grow up and sustain itself naturally is a question yet to be determined. But if it does grow up, it will be a benefit to both parties, for it is happily of the essence of commerce that its advantages cannot be one-sided. The direct trade will be a saving if there is any gain either to the buyer or the seller, and if a profitable return trade can be established in French commodities. M. Simon has laboured earnestly to show that such results can be made to flow, and if he succeeds in inducing commercial men in both countries to open out a new channel of commerce, he will have done good service to both parties. His countrymen appreciate his intentions and his efforts, and in tendering him our congratulations on the distinction he has received we can rejoice that the free trade principles, which we hope it will be always the pride and policy of New South Wales to maintain, suggest and make possible the most profitable intercourse not only with France but with all the nations of the world.

O'SHANASSY AND JOACHIM.—It will be in the recollection of our readers that the Hon. the Attorney-General, on behalf of the Government of this colony, petitioned for leave to be heard by counsel on the hearing of the appeal in this case before the Judicial Committee of her Majesty's Privy Council. By the mail which has just arrived, we understand that news has been received that their Lordships have decided to report to her Majesty that the petition ought to be dismissed with costs. The appeal will therefore be heard in the usual way.

TIN MINING ON THE MURRAY.—Tin, in the lode and in the form of stream tin, is said by the Albury Banner to have been at various times discovered at Jingellick, on the banks of a creek of that name that falls into the Murray, about 80 miles from Albury, but owing to the difficulties attendant on the transport of machinery and supplies nothing has as yet been done to turn the discoveries to practical account. A few months ago a private company was formed in Melbourne for the purpose of working certain lodes that had been discovered on the Victorian side of the Murray, and although operations on an extensive scale have not yet been commenced, sufficient has been done to prove the richness of the lodes, and to make it apparent that, with labour at a moderate price, and better means of communication between the head waters of the Murray and the North-eastern railway, capital might be profitably invested in the development of the stanniferous wealth of Jingellick. Efforts have been made on more than one occasion to induce the Victorian Government to place a sum on the Estimates for the purpose of clearing the Murray from Albury to Tintaldra, and rendering it navigable for a portion of the year, but the Government, although no denial has ever been given to the applications, is not likely to incur the large expenditure that would be necessary to clear the river from snags and other obstructions for a distance of from 150 to 200 miles, and to bear the permanent outlay that would be requisite to keep the channel clear of the snags brought down by the regularly-recurring floods of winter and spring. Local taxation has done much to improve the means of communication, but it is altogether inadequate to bear the cost of a work of such magnitude, nor does it seem to us to be reasonable that the formation of a road that would prove a greater national benefit than some of the railways that are in process of construction should be left to the residents in a thinly-populated tract of country, who find it a hard matter to bridge the numerous mountain streams with which the district is intersected, and carry out other works absolutely necessary to permit of even partial communication with the seaboard.

THE BURRA BURRA COPPER MINE.—After a long period of comparative quietness the once famous Burra Burra mine has again wakened to something like its pristine activity, and operations are once more being vigorously prosecuted in long-deserted workings. The S. A. Register says:—"In the old days the mode of procedure seems to have been to simply take out the bunches of ore wherever they were met with without much regard to ulterior consequences, so that the true course of the lode which is believed to exist on the property was never properly ascertained or defined. A new system has, however, been introduced, and the mine is now being thoroughly and intelligently developed. There are at present about 300 men and boys and from 80 to 100 horses employed, together with eight engines ranging from the monster 80-inch cylinder, used for pumping the water from Morphett's shaft, down to a tiny thing of a few horse power for raising stuff from a short depth. It seems quite within the bounds of probability that this property has not even yet seen its best days. It is almost certain that a large lode must exist somewhere beneath what has hitherto been but a huge blow, and should this source of the immense deposits of copper that have already been taken be once fairly opened, the Burra would once more take its position amongst the monster mines of the world."

TREE-PLANTING.—A correspondent, writing to the Adelaide Observer, says:—In leaving the Burra and travelling northwards one is struck with the vast treeless plains and hills, made so in a great measure by the smelting works at Kooringa. You look to the right, to the left, and far away into the dim distance, and no tree is visible; you may traverse the country hour after hour, and day after day, and I may venture to say, week after week, and still there are no trees, only the wire fences and fields of wheat, the number and extent of which create surprise and astonishment at the vast space enclosed and enclosing, and the farmhouses which are even now building in every direction. To one who remembers all this North country occupied by sheep, and the greater part of it by kangaroos, one is lost in admiration at the perseverance of those who have made it otherwise. Now, I beg to suggest to the farmers whether they might not with profit to themselves plough several deep furrows on the north side of their sections, and running east and west, and sow therein the seed of the castor oil tree, also the almond. The castor oil tree grows quick, and would prove a good barrier to the hot winds. The seeds also are or would be, if sufficient could be got, of commercial value, for the seeds are very full of oil. Again, I have seen years, many years ago, the locusts lying dead in countless myriads under these trees. For the almond trees what need I say? They are so well known, and the almonds have a clear commercial value, 6d. to 10d. per lb. for the soft shells—what finer remunerative hedge could one grow than almond trees. They are hardy, and should form an effectual break to the strong and scorching hot winds that are wont to blow in that country. Moreover, the almonds do not ripen until the first three months in the year, so that the farmer can gather them at his leisure.

SAGACITY OF A DOG.—An intoxicated man, after ineffectual efforts to preserve his equilibrium, fell upon the pavement in Elizabeth-street, Hobart Town. The Mercury says that his dog, which had been slowly following, immediately caught his master by the coat, and deliberately raised him to his legs. There is no exaggeration in this statement, as some eight persons were conversing together at the time, though almost incredulous, of course, at what they had witnessed. After the man was thus protected, it was really interesting to watch the guarded movements of the dog, pausing as his master paused, and slowly walking at his heels as he staggered along. The circumstance in question is worthy of mention amongst remarkable anecdotes of dogs on record. The faithful creature appeared to be a shepherd's dog.

FAT STOCK.—Mr. W. Fullagar sold for Mr. B. Richards 60 bullocks, the noted RVP brand, £7 5s. 6d. each; 11 cows, £5 8s. each. For Mr. Rundle, 36 head, averaged £5 14s. each; for Mr. Rouse, 223 head, averaged £6 11s. 6d. each; for Mr. Rundle, 57 head, averaged £6 10s.

PARROTS.—Sparrows are bad enough, in all conscience, in Victoria; but in Mr. J. H. Dardell's Paradise parrots and parroquets are infinitely more troublesome. That gentleman informs the Geelong Advertiser that they are to be seen by the thousand in his Paradise Vineyards at Batesford, and that this is no exaggeration is proved by the fact that no fewer than 200 were killed there in one day.

A MEETING OF THE AGED.—A meeting of a novel and interesting character (reports the Age) has been held in Collingwood, when about 200 aged people—60 years and upwards—according to invitation by cards, sat down to tea. Everything was done to make the old folks feel at home and happy. There was no distinction as to creed, or country, or class. At intervals a variety of Sankey's popular melodies was sung by the choir, accompanied by the harmonium. Many who had been at the last meeting were missed, having gone to their long home. Short addresses at intervals were given by a few aged friends of the guests. This truly pleasant, and we believe much enjoyed, entertainment terminated in a short prayer meeting.

THEATRE ROYAL.—During the week there have been crowds of people to witness the admirable spectacular pantomime "Beauty and the Beast." Last night, his Excellency Sir Hercules Robinson, the Hon. Lady Robinson, and suite, and his Excellency Sir George Bowen (Governor of Victoria) and suite were present. There will be a matinée to-day.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—"Snow White, or the Damsel that never saw a Glass," has been played throughout the week to large attendance. Mr. Hydes as Ozokerit, and Mr. South as the Queen, continue to delight the public with their very whimsical acting. Miss Lizzie Dixon gives a capital step dance. To-day there will be a matinée, and each youngster attending will be presented with a toy, by way of a New Year's gift.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—To-night will be the close of the Hibernicon in this city. This is decidedly one of the most meritorious dramatic panoramas that has been exhibited here; and Mr. M. Ainsley Scott, Mr. J. O'Neil, Mr. Charles Wallace, Miss Adelaide Stoneham, and Miss Marian Saunders sustained the interest throughout by their amusing impersonations, with the incidental songs and dances.

SCHOOL OF ARTS.—Risley's panorama of the Thames has been produced throughout the week to fair attendances. This evening will be the last opportunity the public will have of seeing these beautiful landscapes.

A YOUNG PRIZE-WINNER.—This time the £1000 prize in Miller's sweep on the Champion Race (says the Geelong Advertiser) has certainly come to the Western district. It has been won by a child, two or three years of age, residing at Camperdown, whose father (Mr. Parker) took out a ticket in its name. If placed at interest until it is twenty-one years of age, the infant will have a nice little fortune with which to commence business.

A FRUIT PEST.—The destruction amongst fruit trees by birds is very considerable this season in some of the orchards around Wahgunyah and Rutherglen. We (Corowa Free Press) had an opportunity the other day of inspecting some of the fruit attacked by these pests at Mr. Camille Reau's Tuilleries Vineyard, and the damage caused amongst the apricots and mulberries is really disheartening. The most destructive of these birds is commonly known as the leatherhead, which not only devours the fruit, but causes greater damage by knocking off the ripe apricots and mulberries off the trees, which of course soon become rotten and unfit for use.

FREE SELECTION AT ALBURY.—It is stated in a recent issue of the Border Post that, during the year 1875, 1007 persons selected an area of 155,825 acres and 4 perches at the Albury Land Office, for which a sum of £38,956 5s. 1½d. was paid, or at the rate of 25 per cent. Many of those selectors were driven out of Victoria by the protectionist policy of the people of that colony, though it may be looked upon as a misdemeanour on the part of a free-trade journal to mention the fact.

THE CROPS.—From all parts of the adjoining district the Riverine Herald hears the most favourable reports of the crops, and the almost universal expression of opinion is that the good season will put the new selectors "on their feet;" and, taking into account the previous almost equally good season, the present will establish the fortunes of the older selectors. The yields vary from 25 to 40 bushels per acre.

PECUNIA AND BANK MONOPOLY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—I trust you will consider the importance to the public of the issues raised in the discussion between "Pecunia" and myself sufficient to justify the insertion of a few lines by way of a reply to my anonymous adversary.

The warfare, it may be observed, is not being carried on on equal terms. I append my name to my opinions, while my friend fights under cover, and only leaves in his trail the inference that he is a bank official, but whether the manager of the Government banking establishment, or the messenger of that institution, leaves us in doubt. Unless, therefore, he boldly give his name, I will not reply to any further letters he may write. But I would suggest to him that, apart from the manliness of appearing in open combat, the public would better be in a position to form an opinion on the relative interests of the parties if "Pecunia" would endorse his assertions with his name. If he believes his own opinions, if he expects the public to give them due weight, say at once am I fighting with the bank, or with a shadow?

The only issue raised either in my letter of 3rd instant, or in my remarks on the Budget speech, was that the Bank of New South Wales, as it appeared from the Treasurer's statement, had in its possession two millions of the public money on the 31st October. "Pecunia" says "not more than £757,000, and that open to fluctuations."

Who is right? I gave figures and facts in proof. "Pecunia" offers naked assertions, accompanied by very much that is totally irrelevant to the point in dispute, and in his letter of yesterday we have a weak reassertion of £757,000, but with a decided shifting of ground, the latter doubtless under pressure of my figures. Then we have a fighting retreat, in which the question of banking routine is involved, and a reference suggested to other bankers to justify the diversion.

"Pecunia" objects to my use of the term legerdemain, and fails to perceive my meaning when I say that he debits the Government account in prospectu to make his balance £757,000. I will endeavour to make the matter so intelligible that he who runs may read.

"Pecunia," it will be seen, admits the balance in Sydney on 31st October to have been £1,107,000; and I presume he will not deny the fact that if the Government had drawn a cheque for that amount it would have been honoured, by reason of there being funds to meet it! Therefore, this £1,107,000 must have been in the bank. But then the legerdemain business steps in, and the banker says, "By the way, under an entirely different agreement altogether from the Sydney account, I have bound myself to advance in London on 1st January £350,000, against a million of your debentures. I must reduce your apparent balance of £1,107,000 down to £757,000, and I will honour your cheque only for that amount." One portion of this transaction would be the Hasenmayer legerdemain business, viz., to make a deceptive balance; the other part, viz., debiting the Sydney balance with the amount of the advance to be made only if required in London, would be the prospective part of the business. But I will make the matter clearer still:—

A merchant banking in Sydney has at his credit on 31st October	£1100
And he hypothecates to the bank 100 bales of wool, taking not "an advance if required" but an actual advance of	350

What is the then state of the merchant's account? I say he has £1450 at his credit. "Pecunia," under the process of legerdemain, says £750. But would he dare, as a banker, to refuse for want of funds a cheque drawn for £1450?

Such in fact was the position of the Government account as "Pecunia" left it in his first letter, when he brought the advance of £350,000 into the business. I maintain, and pledge my reputation on the statement, that he thereby increased, by that amount, the funds in the bank's hands, and did not reduce it, as "Pecunia" asserts and reasserts.

Then as to the £880,000 in London,—which with the £1,107,000 here, formed the two millions in the hands of the Government banker on 31st October, to which I have in Parliament and in the Press referred. "Pecunia" asks us to treat this as an apparent balance only, because by the end of the year it would be all exhausted. I presume the Government do not intend to continue keeping up cash balances at the bank without ever drawing them. My assertion was, that on the 31st October there were £2,000,000; and I put a question to "Pecunia," really the test question of the whole subject, and one which he has not, for "obvious reasons," answered. I will put again: Suppose, on the 31st October, the bank had stopped payment, for what amount would the Government have been the bank's creditor?

"Pecunia" cannot answer this question, because it would simply prove the case I have endeavoured to make out, and show that the quotation from old Fuller, Margery Daw, Mr. Aldrich, and others are only made for misleading the public on the actual facts. But I will answer the question for him, and I will do more. I will ask, in due time in Parliament, questions which will decide the contest, if not to "Pecunia's" satisfaction, at least to his amazement.

In my last letter I offered proof that the balance in the bank's hands on the 31st October, inclusive of funds in England, or in its control, "in transitu," was about two millions—less, of course, as I admitted, the payments made by the bank for the full quarter and one month thereafter. I find to-day, on closer scrutiny of the Treasury accounts, at page 127 of the Treasurer's statement, figures confirming those published by me in your issue of the 5th, and I find further a foot-note which says, speaking of the £880,781, balance in London, "That this balance is liable for payment made in England during the quarter ending 30th September to the amount of £342,508." Therefore, if you deduct this sum from the £880,781, you have, on the 1st October, 1875, in London no less a sum than £540,000, from which only is to be deducted the trifling payment for the month of October. In plain English, therefore, you have the balance in England as something about £530,000 on the 31st October, which, added to the admitted £1,107,000 here, gives, not £757,000, as "Pecunia" asks us to believe, but nearer £1,700,000.

At this point I might with safety stand, but if I add "Pecunia's" advance of £350,000 against debentures, I make something over two millions in the banks' hands on the 31st October last.

"Pecunia" tries hard to show that, inasmuch as he had agreed to advance in London £350,000 against debentures worth a million, the public should believe that he has had to send that amount away from the colony in gold to meet the advance; and he refers me to the manager of the Commercial Bank, to support this view. Up to this stage of "Pecunia's" letter I thought I was arguing with a man, but I fear some schoolboy has crept into your columns, otherwise he would not attempt so absurd a course, and expect your readers to be misled by it.

If the Commercial Bank, to whom I am referred, managed its business in the manner indicated, then its shareholders would not enjoy the handsome dividends they have enjoyed for so many years; and perhaps the difference of management—if "Pecunia's" practices be adopted by the Government banker—may account for the disparity in the dividends of the two establishments. Now, let any schoolboy, the merest tyro in business or exchange, tell us if with a debenture remittance in his hand for a million, on which he intended to advance, only if required, £350,000, he would send away 350,000 sovereigns, which cannot be delivered in London except at a cost for freight and insurance of nearly £4000, and which (let your readers remark), if the debentures were sold, would never be required!

If such ducks and drakes are played with the money market by the Government banker—and if, under such circumstances, sovereigns are shipped away by the cartload, and thus diverted from their legitimate channels—no wonder is it that the trade and the conduct of all commercial operations are hampered, and our financial position disarranged.

No! Mr. Pecunia never did so unbusiness-like an act! He only suggests it to create another paragraph of mystery, under which he may escape from the ludicrous position in which he has placed himself.

In conclusion, just one word as to a division of the bank account, or keeping it in peril in one institution. I venture to think that the same principles should be applied to vast sums of public money as those banks in their wisdom adopt, when they succeed in making their 20 per cent. dividends. Divide your risks; in other words—don't put all your eggs into one basket, however apparently strong that basket may be—the logic of "Pecunia" notwithstanding.

I am, Sir, yours obediently,
GEORGE R. DIBBS.

PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—Mr. Millard's three objections to the public examinations are:—1. That he cannot get copies of the old examination papers. 2. That the same Latin subject, namely the first book of Cæsar, is given every year; which enables ignorant teachers to compete with well-informed ones. 3. That recent disclosures justify HIS mistrust of the capacity, and perhaps the integrity, of the gentlemen superintending at the local centres. My answers are—

1. That the examiners from the very outset made arrangements with Messrs. Gibbs and Shallard for the printing of a manual containing the regulations, the list of the successful candidates, and copies of the examination papers of the previous year. The publishers having found that the demand for their manual of 1874, containing the examination papers of the previous November, were applied for so rarely that it would not be worth their while to print a similar manual for the next year, abstained from doing so. But this in no way concerned the University; all we had to do was to let the public see specimens of our questions for two or three years; if the public chose to ignore them, Messrs. Gibbs and Shallard were not to be expected to inflict further loss upon themselves by publishing any more.

2. The reason for our keeping as much as possible to the same subjects in Latin, Greek, French, and German is one which Mr. Millard's experience might have enabled him to guess, even if his common sense did not suggest it. The want of a sufficient number of copies of a given textbook at a given time has often caused embarrassment in the schools and in the University of this colony; to prevent this embarrassment where it would be fatal to fair play, it is necessary that the importers of books should know what they are to send for, and that they should feel sure that when their consignments arrive they will not be turned back upon their hands by unforeseen changes. Mr. Millard's reasons against this practice show that he is wilfully ignorant of that which has been told to schoolmasters and students over and over again; namely, that the examiners of the University never allow any marks for correct translation of a portion of the set subject unless the candidate proves by the rest of his answers that he has mastered the inflections and the rules of syntax of the language in which he is examined. If Mr. Millard had only condescended to read the regulations he would have seen that we require the translation of another passage from an author not set and answers to questions on the grammar; so that we have a twofold guarantee against the possibility of cram: and I confess that it makes me not a little indignant when I find teachers that ought to know better (I am not now alluding only to Mr. Millard) talking complacently about their own school examinations as less liable to the imputation of cram than one conducted by Professor Pell and myself, who have devoted all our efforts for years past to the extinction of this evil. It will be said that a boy can cram the rules of syntax just as easily as the translation of a book; but they are never asked to repeat rules of syntax at the public examinations; they are invited to show that they can apply these practically by translating English sentences into Latin or some other language, and that they can use them as guides in construing a passage that they have never seen.

3. There are no "recent disclosures" to excuse the impropriety of Mr. Millard questioning the integrity of men as honourable as himself. All recent and all past disclosures have merely tended to show that a few candidates will try to copy when they can. The discoveries have been made by the examiners themselves in looking over their papers, and they are made public for the purpose of deterring others by showing them how useless it is. We have no reason to distrust the capacity of those gentlemen who superintend our public examinations; and I say, in answer to Mr. Millard, that it is a "matter of course that every gentleman of average attainments should be able to superintend an examination." In place of asking whether he is acquainted with "boy nature" and knows what to be on his guard against," all the Senate have to ask in choosing a man, is this—Has he an eye in his head? Has he common sense? Has he a reputation to lose?

Mr. Millard adds, "If I have misstated anything I shall be glad to be set right." I beg to inform him that the more legitimate method where the sources of information are open to all is to set himself right, and then he will not need to make misstatements in a public journal. After this display of candour it is astounding to read such an assertion as that which closes his letter, namely, that intelligent youths after giving promise of becoming fair scholars relax their efforts "for the want of the stimulus which the Universities at home supply to the upper classes of English schools, and which (says he) I hope the Sydney University will in time give to ours." Ever since the foundation of the University of Sydney it has thrown open scholarships to public competition, and for the last nine years I know of my own knowledge that three scholarships, two of fifty pounds a year and one of thirty-five, have been open to the competition of all matriculating students. Mr. Millard must be very fond of stimulus if he thinks that insufficient for the promising student whom he has never sent us.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.,
CHARLES BADHAM.

THE DRY WEATHER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—An error has crept into my letter, which you were so good as to publish in Wednesday's Herald, that mystifies that part calling Mr. Russell's attention to the singular coincidence that the severest droughts have occurred every tenth year, and upon the year ending eight (misprinted, September), viz.: 1828, 1838, 1848, 1858, 1868, and there is every appearance of one in 1878.

I may here add that the price of wheat in Argyle during these first four droughts was not under 20s per bushel; afterwards free trade, by importations, kept it in moderation.

Yours faithfully,
THOMAS WOORE.

SIR,—Having noticed in this morning's Herald, that it is attributed to me as having saved the two youths who were capsized on Christmas Day, I beg to state that I was only one of the party that was on board the steam launch Ethel at the time, and I think that most of the credit is due to the master and engineer in charge.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND PRAYER MEETINGS.—A series of special services for prayer have been held during the present week in connection with the Church of England, which have excited considerable attention and have been well attended. Yesterday evening the series was brought to a conclusion by a meeting held at the Masonic Hall, and presided over by the Bishop of Sydney. Among the clergymen present were the Revs. the Dean of Sydney, G. H. Moreton, J. D. Langley, E. Rogers, H. A. Langley, J. N. Manning, and others. There was a large attendance of members of the various metropolitan parishes. The devotional services were conducted by the Bishop of Sydney, the Dean, the Revs. H. A. Langley and G. H. Moreton. At the conclusion, some practical remarks were addressed to those present by the Bishop, and the doxology having been sung, the benediction was pronounced by the chairman, and the meeting terminated.

DEATH FROM DISEASE OF THE HEART.—An inquest was held at Darlinghurst gaol, yesterday morning, touching the death of a prisoner named Sarah Struth. The deceased was received into the gaol on Thursday afternoon under sentence of three days for obscene language. On her admission, she said, in answer to a question by Dr. Aaron, that nothing was the matter with her. She was put in a cell with two other women, one of whom heard her moaning on her bed about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The matron was called in, but the deceased was then dead. Dr. Aaron made a post-mortem examination of the body, and found that disease of the heart was the cause of death. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical testimony.

SCARCITY OF LABOUR IN THE GUNDAGAI DISTRICT.—With every indication of an abundant harvest, we (Times) regret to hear there is a great scarcity of labour in the neighbourhood of Gundagai. Good wages are offered and every inducement held out to the labourer, yet in many quarters the harvest is uncut for want of hands. The cause of this scarcity of men is not truly known, but of one thing we are certain, they are not employed on the railway works.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S MESSAGE.—In his seventh annual and centennial message, the President of the United States concluded with the following weighty remarks:—"As this will be the last annual message which I shall have the honour of transmitting to Congress, before my successor is chosen, I will repeat or recapitulate the questions which I deem of vital importance which are to be legislated upon and settled at this session. First—That the States shall be required to afford the opportunity of good common school education to every child within their limits. Second—No religious tenets shall ever be taught in any school supported in whole, or in part, by the State or nation, or by the proceeds of any tax levied upon any community; make education compulsory, so far as to deprive all persons who cannot read and write, from becoming voters after the year 1890, and disfranchising none, however, on the ground of illiteracy, who may be voters at the time this amendment takes effect. Third—Declare the Church and State for ever separate and distinct, but each free within their proper spheres, and that all church property shall bear its own proportion of taxation. Fourth—Drive out licensed immorality, such as polygamy and the importation of women for illegitimate purposes. To recur again to the centennial year, it would seem as though now, as we are about to begin the second century of our national existence, would be a most fitting time for these reforms. Fifth—Enact such laws as will ensure a speedy return to a sound currency, such as will command the respect of the world. Believing that these views will commend themselves to the great majority of the right-thinking patriotic citizens of the United States and submit the rest to Congress."

BLACKTOWN.—On Tuesday, January 4, a tea meeting and amateur concert, given by Mrs. W. B. Campbell, took place in the provisional schoolroom at Blacktown. The total proceeds, amounting to £9 and some odd shillings, were given towards the erection of the school church. At 6.15 the guests, who numbered about 100, sat down to a well-provided table, the appearance of which was greatly enhanced by numerous dishes of French confectionery and flowers. When all had done ample justice to the good viands set before them, they dispersed and amused themselves with various games while the tables were being cleared. At 8 o'clock, which was the time appointed for the concert to commence, the people assembled in the schoolroom. A neat little stage had been erected, and the walls were decorated with evergreens, so that the room presented a very pleasing aspect. The Rev. E. Smith and Mr. W. B. Campbell addressed a few appropriate remarks to the audience, and the musical part of the entertainment then commenced. The programme consisted of well selected songs, some of which were comic, an amusing dialogue, and the comic farce entitled "Box and Cox." The whole was brought to a conclusion about 10.15 by singing the national anthem.

WE are [illegible] to call attention to Bradley, Newton, and Lamb's [illegible] elegant household furniture, &c., at the Rooms, Pitt-street, this day, at 11 a.m.—ADVT.

On Monday last business in the Stock and Share market was resumed after a stoppage of ten days devoted to the holiday season. Any sales made during this period were not reported until the opening of this week, consequently there was the appearance of an increased business. Bank shares have a firmer tendency, as the result of a reduction in the bank rates of interest on deposits. Commercial changed hands at 89, and are held for 90. City sold at 8½. Joint Stock at £13 12s. to 13½; at the latter figure there were numerous sales. New Zealand declined since the issue of new stock; old have sellers at 17. No recent transactions in New South Wales, Mercantile, or National of Queensland. With the exception of City of Sydney sixes at 100½, there was nothing done in debentures. Insurance shares are firmly held. United were dealt in at 14s. 6d., and there were inquiries for General, Sydney Fire, and Pacific at prices unacceptable to sellers. There has been an advance in Australasian Steam, of which a number changed hands at from 18½ to 18½. Buyers of Hunter River offered 8¼ without affecting a purchase. New Gas were placed at 8½. In mining there was an upward movement in Shale Oil and Peak Downs Copper. The market was cleared of the former up to 5s. 4½d., and 6s. was refused to-day; Peaks have risen to 10s. For gold shares the demand was slight, and resulted only in the purchase of Fischer-Beards and Lion Reef. The course of sales has been—Banks: City, 8¾; Commercial, 89; Joint Stock, £13 12s., 13½; New Zealand, £17 3s. Debentures: City of Sydney 6 per Cents., 100½. Insurance: United, 14s. 6d. Steam: Australasian, 18½, 18¼, 18¾, 18½. Miscellaneous: New Gas, 8½. Mining: Shale Oil, 5s. 1½d., 5s. 4½d.; Wallsend Coal, 21½; Waratah, 13¾, 14; Peak Downs Copper, 9s., 9s. 3d., 9s. 6d., 9s. 9d., 10s.; Fischer-Beards Gold, 3s. 6d.; Lion Reef, 5d.

The heavy supply of hides brought forward for auction was thought likely to cause a decline in prices; this was, however, averted by a demand for export, and all that changed hands realised about late rates. Horse hides were dull and lower. There was very little doing in tallow, and a considerable quantity was bought in at owners' reserves. At the sales held by Messrs. Mort and Co., Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin,

Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark, Mr. Barker and Mr. Bridge, the ruling rates were:—Heavy hides, 4½d. to 4¼d.; medium, 4d. to 4½d.; light and dry, 4½d. to 4¾d.; inferior, 3½d. to 4d.; horse, 2s. to 8s.; calfskins, 1s. to 6s. 3d.; yearling, 2s. 9d. to 7s. 6d.; foal, 1s.; goat, 4d. to 8d.; wallaby, 3d. to 6d.; kangaroo, 6d. to 10d.; bear, 1d.; hair, 6½d. to 17½d.; horns, 10s. to 21s.; hoofs, £2 to £3 15s.; shankbones, £2 12s. 6d. to £8; beef tallow, £29 10s. to £33; mutton, £34 to £35; inferior, £26 15s. upwards; mutton bird oil, 2s. 3d.

Messrs. Griffiths and Weaver report having sold (in conjunction with Mr. John Macfarlane, Rockhampton), the St. Helen's Station, Mackay, Queensland, to Mr. Dyson Lacy, with 1550 cattle, stores, plant, &c., for £6464.

An average week's business has been done in the import markets, principally for trade requirements. Stocks of flour having run very low, without prospects of being immediately replenished, holders have raised their prices as high as £13 for best Adelaide. Wheat is steady at 5s. 3d. for new, and 5s 6d. for old. Building materials are steady, lumber excepted. Of this the Albuera has brought a further supply from Oregon. At auction a cargo of kauri pine sold at 18s. 6d to 19s. for T. and G. boards, 20s. 6d. for wide rough inch, 18s. to 19s. for rough medium inch boards, skirting at 2¼d. to 3¾d., flitches at 14s.; also the cargo of Richmond River pine ex Rob Roy, at 18s. for inch T. and G., rough inch at 13s. 3d. to 15s., battens at 10s., inch T. and G. Scotch flooring at 21s. per 100 feet, 1¼ inch ditto at 20s. 6d., ¾-inch at 17s., ½-inch at 16s. 6d. Cement is improving. Knight Bevan's is held for 20s. Slates nominal. Candles remain at former rates. There is such a scarcity of coffee that holders command their own price for the small lots which the trade are buying. Dried fruit are easier, late arrivals having added considerably to stock. The receipt of 1500 cases from Oregon has checked any further advance in 1-lb. salmon for the present; other descriptions of fish are in supply at previous quotations. There is not much inquiry for groceries and oilmen's stores, most of the trade being stocked for a time. Liquors are being quitted in moderate quantities. Bulk brandies remain at 7s. to 7s. 3d. Hennessy's case, 29s. 6d. to 30s. There is quite a dearth of bulk ale, and it was almost a compliment to obtain a small parcel of Marrian's at £11 10s. Some good lines of Dagger stout changed hands at about 9s. 3d. Champagne has a readier sale, a parcel of Piper's was quitted at £3 18s., and Krug's on terms reserved. Whisky and other spirits unaltered. Kerosene oil is being bought up, and as reported yesterday a line of 2000 cases was taken by one buyer. The Coldstream, from New York, has a shipment which has been placed to arrive at a full figure. Sugars are dearer. Mr. Threlkeld sold by auction, to-day, the Lady Robinson's cargo of Queensland sorts, which realised £26 17s. 6d. to £28 2s. 6d. for rations, £28 10s. to £30 2s. 6d. for yellows; also the damaged teas, ex Cito, at full rates considering condition—private sales during the week resulted in the quittance of fine congous at up to 2s. 1d. per lb.

Maize has advanced steadily; prime brought 4s. 6d. to 4s. 7d. to-day; oaten hay, £6 10s. to £7 10s.; lucerne, £6 10s. to £7; cheese, 8d. to 9d.; bacon, 6d. to 9d.; Warrnambool potatoes, £5 to £5 10s.

Mr. F. Bradly has sold since last report:—

An allotment, in Leichhardt-street, Glebe, frontage 33 feet, at £2 10s per foot—J. Burrows, purchaser; 33 feet, at £2 10s per foot—William Hill; 50 feet, in Oxley-street, at £4 per foot—William Hill; 4 allotments, Stanmore Road, 132 feet, at £2 12s 6d per foot—Mr. Cohen; 1 allotment, ditto, at £2 5s per foot—Mr Akman. The remaining 158 feet, situated in the hollow, was sold for £379 5s.

New York dates are to December 2. Latest advices report the departure of the Lion for Sydney, on October 16, with 5300 cases kerosene, 200 barrels resin, and sundries. The H. D. Brookman and Europa, for Melbourne, took 6100 cases kerosene, 689 barrels resin, 380,000 feet lumber, 387 packages tobacco, &c. The Marathon, Ned White, and Annie Lewis, for New Zealand, bring 14,350 cases kerosene; the Augustine Kobbe, for Adelaide, 10,500 cases. From Boston, The Mystic Belle cleared for Melbourne without any oil, and only 1750 cases were shipped per Lizzie for Dunedin. The Ackbar was loading then for Melbourne and Sydney. The R. J. Moulton was ready to sail from New York for this port; and schooner H. Lippett to follow. The Chatanooga and Etta Loring were on the berth for Melbourne.

"Dear Sir,—I beg to tender you my grateful thanks for the benefit I have derived from taking your 'world-famed Blood Mixture.' I had been in several hospitals for my complaint—ulcerated sores—but without deriving any benefit, and had given up all hopes of getting cured. Some weeks ago I bought a small bottle of your 'Blood Mixture,' and since that time I have had six more, the effect of which has been miraculous.
"Yours faithfully,
"CHARLES PESTELL.
"To Mr. Clarke, Lincoln."
WONDERFUL CURE IN A BAD CASE OF BLOOD POISONING.
"75, Westminster Bridge Road, Lambeth, London, S.E., 9th July, 1874.
"Sir,—I return my sincere thanks to you for the great benefit I have derived by taking your celebrated 'Blood Mixture.' I will state my complaints to you. I had an injured finger, and unfortunately got it poisoned, then it gradually became worse. My arms, face, and body came out in pimples and blotches, and I could scarcely stand on my legs. However, I saw an advertisement from you; I agreed, as a last resource, with my wife, to try your 'Blood Mixture,' and, thank God, the second day I felt relief, and in one week the pimples began to die away; in three weeks I went to work again.
"Yours truly,
"JOHN HENDERSON.
"To Mr. Clarke."
CURE OF SORE LEG.
"Deeping, St. James's, Peterborough, 18th April, 1874.
"Mr. Clarke—Sir,—I have much pleasure in stating that your 'Blood Mixture' and 'Skin Lotion,' quite cured me of a fearful bad leg, of upwards of a year's standing; the sore was brought on by a scald, and I never thought it would get better; however, I sent to your agent, Mr. W. Stephen Wilson, chemist, Long Causeway, Peterborough, for the world-famed "Blood Mixture," and, after a few weeks, quite recovered. I shall be glad to answer any questions on the subject.
"I am, yours gratefully,
"SARAH BAKER."
SKIN DISEASES, eruptions, blotches, spots, pimples, pustules, boils, carbuncles, ringworms, scald heads, sore eyes, erisipelas, itch, scurfs, discolourations of the skin, humours and diseases of the skin of whatever name or nature, are literally carried out of the system in a short time by the use of this world-famed medicine.
IMPORTANT ADVICE TO ALL.—Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE is sold in bottles, 2s 6d each; and in cases containing six times the quantity, 11s each—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.

STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS FOR CHILDREN CUTTING TEETH.
CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.
The value of this well-known Family Medicine has been largely tested in all parts of the world, and by all grades of society, for upwards of FIFTY YEARS. Its well-earned extensive sale has induced SPURIOUS IMITATIONS, some of which in OUTWARD APPEARANCE so closely resemble the original as to have deceived many purchasers. The proprietor, therefore, feels it due to the public to give a special caution against the use of such imitations.
Purchasers are, therefore, requested carefully to observe the four following distinctive characteristics, without which none are genuine:—
1. In every case the words JOHN STEEDMAN, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey, are engraved on the Government stamp affixed to EACH PACKET.
2. Each SINGLE POWDER has directions for the dose, and the words John Steedman, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey, painted thereon.
3. The name Steedman is always spelt with two EE's.
4. The manufacture is carried on solely at Walworth, Surrey.
Sold in packets by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors, at 1s 1½d and 2s 9d each.

OXYGEN IS LIFE.—Dr. BRIGHT'S PHOSPHODYNE.—Multitudes of people are hopelessly suffering from debility, nervous and liver complaints, depression of spirits, hypochondria, timidity, indigestion, failure of hearing, sight, and memory, lassitude, want of power, &c., whose cases admit of a permanent cure by the new remedy PHOSPHODYNE (Ozonic Oxygen), which at once allays all irritation and excitement, imparts new energy and life to the enfeebled constitution, and rapidly cures every stage of these hitherto incurable and distressing maladies. Sold by all Chemists and Druggists throughout the globe.
CAUTION.—The large and increasing demand for Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne has led to several imitations under somewhat similar names; purchasers of this medicine should therefore be careful to observe that each case bears the Government stamp, with the words, Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne engraved thereon, and that the same words are also blown in the bottle.

BISHOP'S CITRATE OF MAGNESIA.—ALFRED BISHOP, Manufacturing Chemist, 17, Speak's Fields, Mile End, New Town, London, N.E., respectfully reminds the wholesale and retail trade, both in Great Britain and abroad, that he originally invented and prepared Citrate of Magnesia since 1857, when it was first introduced. He has never ceased personally to superintend its manufacture; and the marked superiority of his brand over that of all the imitations in the market is admitted by all the largest buyers. The materials employed are uniformly of the highest quality; the granules are handsome in appearance and perfectly soluble, and the genuine preparation yields a draught which, as a refreshing saline medicine of peculiarly pleasant flavour, is instantly distinguishable from the imitations.
Agents for Sydney, ELLIOTT, BROTHERS.

THE HUMAN HAIR strengthened, embellished, and preserved by the use of
DEVONIAN CREAM.
This preparation has now been before the Australian public for upwards of twenty years, and from its first introduction to the present time the demand for it has been steadily increasing.
The large sale that it commands, and the testimonials which the proprietor frequently receives, incontestably prove the high estimation in which it is held. It possesses the combined advantages of a Dandruff Lotion and a Nutritive Cream; it effectually cleanses as well as strengthens the hair.
The following extract from a Mudgee correspondent's letter is a specimen of testimonials:—
"My wife begs me to state that she uses your Devonian Cream constantly, and finds no preparation for the hair equal to it."

They require no change of diet, and the most delicate constitution may take them with safety. Invented only by J. S. ABRAHAM, at the Laboratory, 446, George-street, Sydney.

TO ECONOMICAL HOUSEWIVES.—Your Grocer can purchase inferior Soaps 8s a hundredweight less than he can buy Allen's No. 1 Crown Soap, and he charges for them the same price per bar. IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES. In Equity.

In the matter of the GRETA COAL AND SHALE COMPANY, and in the matter of the Companies' Act, 37 Vic., No. 19.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON have received instructions from FREDERICK THOMAS HUMPHERY, Esq., official liquidator in the above matters, to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, 273, George-street, Sydney, on TUESDAY, the 25th January, at 11 a.m.,
THE WHOLE OF THE PROPERTY of the above Coal Mining Company, comprising:—

Rolling stock	Machinery
Engines and boilers	Horses and trucks
Waggons and rails	Stores and timber
Workshops and sheds	Store-houses

Cottages, offices, furniture, &c.
INVENTORY of which, together with plans and other details, affording full information, can be obtained at the office of the Official Liquidator, 171, Pitt-street, Sydney; or at the Company's Office, Exchange, Sydney; the property being open to inspection by application to Mr. A. Sheddon, now in charge at Greta.
The PROPERTY consists of 1426 acres of land (more or less), held under royalty and Government lease, a portion of which, in allotments, has been sub-let for 21 years from recent dates, producing an income of about £300 per annum, and with the working of the mine a further portion would be readily let. The surface buildings, all well and substantially erected, comprise manager's office, underground manager's cottage, carpenter's cottage, colliery viewer's office, sundry miners' dwellings, general store, and police barracks let to Government.
PERMANENT MACHINERY is of a most complete and substantial character, and together with the rolling stock affords every opportunity for working the mine to a very large out-put.
The UNDERGROUND Plant is also in excellent order, and ample to meet every requirement; there is also, a large supply of stores including wire rope, rod and bar iron, iron work for waggons and skips, pit rails, &c., greater in quantity than is usual, from the fact that in all branches of the mine the works and appliances were being increased to meet an extended trade.
THE SEAMS of COAL within the property are of great thickness and unsurpassed quality, and the whole works have been designed for extensive out-put at a minimum cost, and to compare favourably with any of the Newcastle collieries. There is a large quantity of small coal estimated at 50,000 tons, and also some large coal at surface, all of which will be sold with the property.

IMPORTANT SALE.

By order of the EXECUTORS of the Will of the late JOHN CUTHBERT, Esq.

VALUABLE WHARF PROPERTIES, DARLING HARBOUR, PORT JACKSON, CITY OF SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from the EXECUTORS of the will of the late JOHN CUTHBERT, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on MONDAY, 7th February, 1876, at 11 o'clock,

1.—THE PATENT SLIP AND WHARF, Sussex-street, and with right of entrance from the foot of KING-STREET, opposite the COMMERCIAL WHARF, together with the FOUR PRODUCE STORES in Sussex-street, CITY OF SYDNEY.

That valuable property
THE PATENT SLIP,
DARLING HARBOUR, SUSSEX-STREET,
together with steam-engine, cradle, and apparatus complete, in full trade and in first-rate order, capable of taking up vessels up to 600 tons burthen.

The property has a frontage of 67 feet to Sussex-street with considerable depth (about 300 feet) extending to the harbour, to which it has also a large frontage.

The block contains an area of about 2 ROODS 11 PERCHES, for which there is a CERTIFICATE UNDER TORRENS' ACT, and in addition PERMISSION HAS BEEN OBTAINED still further to extend into the harbour to the extent of nearly A QUARTER OF AN ACRE.

On the Sussex-street frontage are four 2-story recently-erected PRODUCE STORES, with extensive shed basement on a level with the wharf. These stores are at present let, without any connection, or interfering in any way, with the working of the slip and wharf.

Independent of its value as a patent slip, the property occupies the most valuable position on the harbour for a COMMERCIAL WHARF, which would command an extensive business in connection with the coasting and intercolonial trade.

2.—CUTHBERT'S EXTENSIVE COMMERCIAL WHARF, SHIPBUILDING YARD, SAWMILL, &c., MILLER'S POINT, DARLING HARBOUR.

This extensive property comprises about
TWO ACRES AND A HALF OF LAND, having
UPWARDS OF 450 FEET FRONTAGE
DARLING HARBOUR, PORT JACKSON.

It is one of the largest establishments at this seaport for shipbuilding and general shipwrights' work, having considerable capacity for expansion to meet the increasing requirements of the port. The business was for many years very successfully carried on by the late proprietor, Mr. Cuthbert, on the premises.

With respect to AREA, extent of AVAILABLE HARBOUR FRONTAGE, and GENERAL FACILITIES, either for SHIPBUILDING or MERCANTILE PURPOSES, the property is UNEQUALLED IN THE AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.

It includes a sawmill, with machinery, large workshops, stores, sheds, [illegible], &c.; also a number of workmen's cottages. As the latter [illegible] cottages can be sold separately, it will be optional with the buyer to include them in the purchase.

☞ Very little need be said in this notice of sale of the above valuable properties, of the vast and increasing importance of the COLONY OF NEW SOUTH WALES, and of its METROPOLIS, the CITY of SYDNEY, with its spacious PORT, which boasts of an area of upwards of 9 square miles, and which for SAFETY OF ACCESS, for CAPACITY, for DEPTH OF WATER, for SHELTER, and for all SHIPPING CONVENIENCES, is UNSURPASSED BY ANY HARBOUR IN THE WORLD.

With very trifling exceptions, the whole of the imports are discharged in, and nearly all the produce of the colony is exported from this harbour.

From recent statistical returns, it will be found that the number, tonnage, and crews of vessels entered at the various ports of New South Wales in 1873 were as follows:—British: 1998 vessels, the total tonnage of which was 802,073, and the crews of which numbered 34,730. In the same year the foreign vessels entered were 163, the tonnage of which was 72,731, and the crews of which numbered 2017. The totals for the year are 2161 vessels, 874,804 tons, and 36,747 seamen. In 1874 the gradual increase was maintained, and the totals are—2217 vessels, 1,016,369 tons, and crews, 41,511. Of the vessels entered in 1873, 1313 came in with cargoes, and 848, in ballast; 1076 cargoes came to Sydney, and 209 went to Newcastle. The steady increase of vessels entered inwards during the last five years is shown by the following figures, giving the number and tonnage:—In 1870 the vessels numbered 1858, and the tonnage was 689,820: in 1871 the vessels numbered 1891 and the tonnage was 706,019; in 1872 the vessels numbered 2011, and the tonnage was 774,490; in 1873 the vessels numbered 2161, and the tonnage was 874,804; in 1874 the vessels numbered 2217, and the tonnage was 1,016,369. The vessels entered outwards show an equally steady increase from 771,942 tons in 1870 to 974,525 in 1874. In 1873 there were built in the colony 43 vessels (2181 tons), and in 1874 the number built was 52, and the tonnage 3413. During the last five years 164 vessels (10,814 tons) have been built, and 376 vessels (55,211 tons) have been registered, in the colony.

A very large proportion of the tonnage referred to, arrived in or left Port Jackson, and it must be remembered, that it alone in the colony affords any facility for refitting or repairs.

The actual eligible wharf frontage of the Port in the City of Sydney is limited, and cannot well be extended.

The properties now offered for sale occupy, without exception, the most valuable positions of this wharf frontage, whether for mercantile purposes, for steam-packet companies, or for shipbuilding, including repairing and refitting.

Both will be absolutely disposed of on the above date, to enable the Executors of the Will of the late Mr. Cuthbert to carry out their trusts.

Plans of the properties may be inspected, and further particulars obtained, on application to RICHARDSON and WRENCH, Sydney.

The TITLES are registered under the REAL PROPERTY ACT, commonly called TORRENS' ACT, and the CERTIFICATES can be inspected at the Offices of Messrs. SLADE and SMITH, Solicitors, Sydney.

Terms at sale.

VALUABLE BLOCK OF CITY LAND, about ONE ACRE in extent, known as
ROLFE'S TIMBER YARD,
CIRCULAR QUAY,
subdivided into BUILDING ALLOTMENTS, fronting ALFRED-STREET (facing the Circular Quay), ARBITRATION-STREET, HENRIETTA-STREET, and REIBY-LANE, being without exception the CHOICEST BUSINESS SITES
CITY OF SYDNEY.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 28th January, at 11 o'clock,

LOT 1.—Corner allotment, has the following frontages:—30 feet 7 inches to Alfred-street, Circular Quay, and 97 feet to Pitt and Henrietta streets.

LOTS 2 to 10 have each 20 feet frontages to Alfred-street, facing the Quay, with depth of 70 feet extending to Henrietta-street.

LOT 11—Corner allotment, 20 feet to Alfred-street, 70 feet to Arbitration-street, 20 feet to Henrietta-street.

LOTS 12 to 20 have each 21 feet and upwards to Arbitration-street, extending back to a 20-feet lane at the rear.

LOTS 21 to 25 each have 20 feet and upwards to Henrietta-street, extending to Reiby-lane at the rear.

☞ The above are the only sites that can now be obtained at the Circular Quay, and the position for mercantile purposes is unequalled in the city.

On the completion of the great improvements at the Quay, now to be immediately commenced, which will more than quadruple the shipping accommodation, these allotments will be immensely enhanced in value, and the special attention of capitalists, merchants, warehousemen, and others is directed to this very favourable opportunity for securing sites only about 100 feet distant, by a perfectly level approach from the ships' side at the wharf.

There is now no doubt that the proposed railway extension from the Redfern station to the Circular Quay will be carried out during the year. This much called for work will favourably and most materially affect the value of all property in the locality, and more especially that now offered, as the terminus must be either on or in close proximity to the land.

Plan on view at the Rooms.
Terms liberal.

at 12 o'clock, noon,
AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
That well-known fattening Cattle Station,
MOLLEY,
situated in the Liverpool Plains District.

The country is beautifully watered, having a frontage to the Namoi of 10 miles, and comprises an area of 64,000 acres, consisting of Saltbush and Myall, and is altogether of the most fattening description, as is evidenced by the drafts of fat cattle which are constantly turned off, commanding the highest prices in the Sydney market.

THE HERD consists of about 1400 head quiet well-bred cattle, and there is a draft fat, now ready to come off.

THE IMPROVEMENTS are extensive and first-class and not to be surpassed in the district. They comprise dwelling-house of 8 rooms, kitchen, garden, stables, men's huts, milking yards, calf pens, calf paddocks, large stock-yard, two horse paddocks, with many other improvements too numerous to mention in an advertisement. All these are newly erected, and are, therefore, in first-class order.

PURCHASED LAND.—There are 1632 acres Freehold, and 1750 acres Secured Land, all which, together with the improvements erected thereon, will be given to the purchaser free of charge.

The auctioneers invite inspection of this very compact and desirable property, which offers an opportunity for a moderate investment now rarely to be met with.

For further particulars, apply to MAIDEN, HILL, and CLARK, 171, Pitt-street.

DUNDERALIGO STATION,
consisting of the blocks Dunderaligo and Curianga, embracing an area of about 24,000 acres of excellent grazing country, and being within two miles of the BOWNING RAILWAY STATION, the carriage of wool is nothing beyond the rail charges, and the station is within a few hours' reach of the METROPOLIS.

The STOCK to be sold with these runs is as under—
5800 wethers, say 2 to 5 years
1000 maiden ewes, 2 to 3 years
200 ewes and weaners
7000 all, more or less.

There are 320 acres purchased land
640 acres conditional purchases.

These runs are ABUNDANTLY AND PERMANENTLY WATERED by creeks and springs.

The great advantage of having so profitable a station within about eight hours' journey of Sydney cannot be estimated—the difficulty of procuring labour and expenses of carriage being reduced to a minimum, and would enable the proprietor to reside with his family in SYDNEY, and to exercise suitable supervision over the station by frequent visits.

THE UNDERBANK ESTATE,
8460 acres (more or less) of first-class GRAZING LAND, about 4000 acres of which are sapped, and a large area adapted for cultivation. A large proportion of the estate is substantially fenced, which, from its position and the nature of its boundaries, renders it wholly secure.

This valuable, magnificent, and highly-improved property is not only luxuriantly grassed but superabundantly watered by the Williams and Chichester Rivers, intersected by the former, and having about five miles frontage to the latter. There are also several tributaries and creeks which furnish a continuous supply of water, and assist materially to keep the stock together—thus lessening the cost of management, besides rendering the property more productive.

The IMPROVEMENTS are extensive and substantial, comprising a neat and faithfully-built brick cottage, containing eight rooms, kitchen, with four rooms attached, large underground tank, cemented; stable, coachhouses, sheds, stock, milking yards, &c.; thus forming a comfortable homestead, furnished with every convenience, and attached to which are about 1600 acres of splendid land, securely fenced, and subdivided into three paddocks.

There are seven comfortable dwelling-houses throughout the estate, in excellent repair, occupied by respectable tenants.

A post-office is also established upon the property in close proximity to the homestead.

The property abounds with valuable timber, including cedar; is bounded by an unlimited extent of Government land, is undoubtedly one of the most desirable grazing estates hitherto offered in this district, and is for absolute sale.

Mr. M'Donald, who resides upon the estate, will render every facility to intending purchasers to inspect it.

Further particulars may be obtained upon application to BRUNKER and SPARKE, Auctioneers, &c., East Maitland.

D. L. DYMOCK has been favoured with instructions from Messrs. D. T. Johnstone, G. B. Johnstone, and A. A. Johnstone (to close an estate account) to sell by public auction, on and at the above date and place,

All that truly magnificent and centrally situated property known as Johnstone's Meadows, carefully subdivided into choice farms, and containing as under:

LOT 1.—Containing 100 acres, occupied by Mr. W. Swan. Soil rich, cabbagetree bush, on the bank of the river, highly improved, every convenience in buildings for a farm, securely fenced, and subdivided into numerous paddocks,—a magnificent farm.

Title unquestionable.

Liberal Terms—25 per cent. cash deposit; balance by equal instalments, bearing 7 per cent. interest per annum.

Luncheon at 12 o'clock, at Steam Packet Hotel.

The Auctioneer, in the small compass of an advertisement, cannot adequately describe the intrinsic value of the above property. The character of its soil is unsurpassed, consisting as it principally does of alluvial soil to any depth, its contiguous position to the celebrated properties of the late Henry Osborne, Esq., E. H. Weston, Esq., and Terry's estate (so recently sold at £30 5s. per acre), its close proximity to the main road to Wollongong and Kiama, the advantages of shipping, the almost certainty of the Illawarra Railway passing through this property, must increase its value immensely, its highly productive character, the advantages of the purest water in the driest seasons, the substantial nature of the improvements, the growing importance of the locality, and the careful manner in which the property has been subdivided, gives to the purchaser an advantage not procurable again in the district, and upon terms unequalled for liberality to suit all classes of purchasers.

The Auctioneer would merely call particular attention of intending purchasers of all those lots which abut on the river, and also to the careful subdivision of the forest paddocks.

Inspection invited prior to sale.

The Auctioneer will give every information on application.
